EMC Dell Unity Deploy 2023 Exam Sample Questions (Q446-Q451):

NEW QUESTION # 446

What does the Dell Unity XT system do after a NAS server starts outbound traffic to an external service?

- A. Uses Packet Reflect for outbound communication
- B. Creates an active interface buffer cache in DRAM
- C. Selects interfaces that are based on advance static routes
- D. Uses the active production interface

Answer: A

Explanation:

Packet Reflect is a feature that enables the Dell Unity XT system to use the same interface for outbound communication that was used for inbound communication. This feature is useful when the Dell Unity XT system needs to initiate outbound traffic to an external service, such as DNS, NTP, LDAP, or SMTP. By using Packet Reflect, the Dell Unity XT system can avoid routing issues, firewall restrictions, or network address translation problems that may occur when using a different interface for outbound communication.

When a NAS server starts outbound traffic to an external service, the Dell Unity XT system uses Packet Reflect to send the packets through the same interface that received the packets from the external service.

Therefore, the correct answer is D. Uses Packet Reflect for outbound communication. References:

NEW QUESTION # 448

A system administrator deployed a UnityVSA to their vSphere environment. They did not add the management IP to the UnityVSA during the installation.

Which command must be used to apply the management IP from the vSphere UnityVSA console?

- A. svc_change_hw_config
- B. svc_ipmi
- C. svc_inject
- D. svc_initial_config

Answer: D

Explanation:

To apply the management IP from the vSphere UnityVSA console, the system administrator must use the `svc_initial_config` command. This command allows the user to configure the initial network settings for the UnityVSA, such as the management IP address, subnet mask, gateway, and DNS servers. The `svc_ipmi` command is used to configure the IPMI settings for the UnityVSA, such as the IPMI IP address, username, and password. The `svc_change_hw_config` command is used to change the hardware configuration of the UnityVSA, such as the number of CPU cores, memory size, and disk size. The `svc_inject` command is used to inject faults into the UnityVSA for testing purposes.

What is a characteristic of Host Groups?

- A. Access to block storage resources must be set before adding hosts to a host group.
- B. Hosts added to a host group must not have mapped block storage resources.
- C. Block storage resources added to a host group are accessible to all the member hosts
- D. Block storage resources attached to one of the member hosts are accessible to the entire host group.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

A characteristic of Host Groups is that block storage resources added to a host group are accessible to all the member hosts. A Host Group is a logical grouping of hosts that share the same access permissions and settings for block storage resources. By adding block storage resources to a host group, the user can simplify the management and allocation of storage for multiple hosts. Access to block storage resources does not need to be set before adding hosts to a host group, as the access permissions can be modified later. Hosts added to a host group can have mapped block storage resources, as long as they are not in conflict with the host group resources. Block storage resources attached to one of the member hosts are not accessible to the entire host group, unless they are also added to the host group.
