HPE Network Switching Associate Exam Sample Questions (Q23-Q28):

NEW QUESTION # 23

A senior network engineer has requested you update the CX 6100 OS image for the ZTP deployment. Select the correct statement for the task requirement.

- A. You must change the desired software version in the Aruba Active to match the CX switch version.
- B. You must change the desired software URL for the ASP path and correct the DHCP options.
- C. You must download the desired software version from ASP and host the file on a TFTP server.
- D. You must change the desired software version for the unprovisioned switches group in HPE Aruba Networking Central.

Answer: D

Explanation:

For ZTP deployments, the desired OS version for unprovisioned CX 6100 switches is configured in Aruba Central, ensuring that switches automatically download and install the correct software during initial provisioning.

NEW QUESTION # 24

A four-member HPE Aruba Networking CX 6200F VSF configuration is being planned to replace the current 5412R switch. The customer has an open-source network management solution and requires an answer to how they can monitor the switch stack.

- A. The SNMP service will respond to queries and stack them on both Conductor and Standby members.
- B. The SNMP service on the Conductor switch will respond to all SNMP queries for the stack.
- C. The SNMP service must be enabled on the mgmt VRF for each VSF member for queries.
- D. The SNMP service will be enabled by default for each member's OOBM port for queries.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is B. The SNMP service on the Conductor switch will respond to all SNMP queries for the stack. A CX 6200F VSF stack operates as a single logical switch. HPE Aruba Networking VSF documentation explains that one switch in the stack is the Conductor, and the Conductor runs the control-plane software and manages the ASICs of all stack members. The Standby member maintains a synchronized copy of the Conductor's configuration database and can assume the Conductor role after a failure. HPE Aruba Networking documentation also states that configuration changes are applied on the Conductor switch and then synchronized to the Standby. Since the VSF stack is managed as one logical system, SNMP monitoring is performed against the stack through the active Conductor role, not by independently polling each member as a separate switch. Option A is incorrect because SNMP is not separately enabled per VSF member. Option C is incorrect because SNMP is not enabled by default on each OOBM port for member-specific queries.

Option D is incorrect because both Conductor and Standby do not independently answer as separate stacked SNMP endpoints.

NEW QUESTION # 25

Which options accurately describe MAC address and ARP tables? (Select two)

- A. The ARP reply packet uses a broadcasting mechanism.
- B. Switches use the MAC address table to properly forward frames.
- C. Switches automatically build the MAC table based on destination MAC addresses.
- D. The ARP table maps IP addresses to MAC addresses.
- E. MAC address tables are built based on source IP addresses.

Answer: B,D

NEW QUESTION # 26

A junior network engineer is studying for a certification and needs to understand how a router makes a forwarding decision when it has multiple routes to the same destination network.

Consider the following entries in a routing table:

O > 172.16.0.0/16 [110/20] via 10.2.2.2

S > 172.16.10.0/24 [1/0] via 10.3.3.3

If the router receives a packet with a destination IP address of 172.16.10.5, which route will it use?

- A. The OSPF route to 172.16.0.0/16 because OSPF is a dynamic protocol.
- B. The router will load balance the traffic between the OSPF and the static route.
- C. The default route to 0.0.0.0/0 because it has the lowest administrative distance.
- D. The static route to 172.16.10.0/24 because it is the most specific match.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 27

A Junior Network Engineer is explaining the function of ARP to a colleague. A host computer (192.168.1.10) needs to send a packet to another host (192.168.1.20) on the same local network.

What is the primary purpose of the Address Resolution Protocol (ARP) in this scenario?

- A. To resolve the IP address 192.168.1.20 to its corresponding MAC address.
- B. To assign a dynamic IP address to the source host.

- C. To determine the best Layer 3 path to the destination host.
- D. To translate the private IP address to a public IP address for internet access.

Answer: A
