CompTIA A+ Core 1 Exam (2026) Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48

A technician is troubleshooting a PoE phone that will not turn on. When a laptop is plugged directly into the switchport for the phone the technician sees a data link LED and activity. Which of the following tools should the technician use to verify PoE availability to the phone?

- A. Toner probe
- B. Network tap
- C. Loopback plug
- D. Cable tester

Answer: D

Explanation:

A cable tester capable of testing Power over Ethernet (PoE) functionality can verify whether the switchport is providing the required power to the phone. This tool measures both the presence of data and the voltage or wattage being provided through the Ethernet cable. This is the most effective way to confirm that PoE is available on the port.

NEW QUESTION # 49

A user reports poor performance on the application server.

INSTRUCTIONS

Click on Server 1 and Server 2 and review the information presented in each chart to determine which drives need to be replaced.

Select the appropriate replacement drive that should be used, for the least performance degradation to the server.

If at any time you would like to bring back the initial state of the simulation, please click the Reset All button.

Answer:

Explanation:

See the detailed solution in explanation below.

Explanation:

The degraded status on Server 2 indicates a RAID-5 issue, typically due to a failed or failing drive. In RAID-5 configurations, when one drive fails, the system can still operate but with reduced performance as parity data is used to rebuild missing data on-the-fly.

Recommended Replacement Drive:

To minimize performance degradation, the replacement drive should be:

SAS HDD with the same specifications (64KB stripe size, no read-ahead, and write-back policy).

Matching the configuration exactly ensures seamless integration and optimizes recovery speed in the RAID-5 array.

In RAID-5, degraded performance is expected when one drive fails, as parity data needs to rebuild missing information during each read/write process. Replacing the failed drive restores the RAID array to optimal status, reducing the load on existing drives and returning the system to normal read/write performance. The write-back policy and disabled disk cache settings are designed to reduce latency and increase efficiency, essential for handling real-time applications.

A user reports poor performance on the application server.

INSTRUCTIONS

Click on Server 1 and Server 2 and review the information presented in each chart to determine which drives need to be replaced.

Select the appropriate replacement drive that should be used, for the least performance degradation to the server.

NEW QUESTION # 51

Which of the following cloud characteristics allows local folders to contain updates that are made by users on other devices?

- A. Network share
- B. Availability
- C. Synchronization
- D. Metered utilization

Answer: C

Explanation:

Synchronization ensures that changes made to files on one device are automatically updated and reflected in local folders on other devices connected to the same cloud service.

NEW QUESTION # 52

A network operations analyst receives an automated alert regarding a server with an array. The analyst walks over to the server and sees a blinking orange light at the hard disk bay. The server is configured for RAID 1.

Which of the following should the analyst do to resolve this issue?

- A. Undo the array and create a new one.
- B. Replace the hard disk and rebuild the array.
- C. Change the array to RAID 0.
- D. Update RAID card firmware.

Answer: B

Explanation:

A blinking orange light typically indicates a failed hard drive in the RAID array. In RAID 1 (mirroring), you can replace the failed drive and rebuild the array without data loss.

From CompTIA A+ 220-1101 Official Study Guide, Objective 3.4 - RAID configuration and troubleshooting:

"In the event of a hard drive failure in RAID 1, replace the failed disk and allow the array to rebuild using the remaining mirrored disk." Verified Source:
