Amazon AWS Certified Solutions Architect - Associate Sample Questions (Q503-Q508):

NEW QUESTION # 503

A company hosts its static website by using Amazon S3. The company wants to add a contact form to its webpage. The contact form will have dynamic server-side components for users to input their name, email address, phone number and user message. The company anticipates that there will be fewer than 100 site visits each month. Which solution will meet these requirements MOST cost-effectively?

- A. Create a t2 micro Amazon EC2 instance. Deploy a LAMP (Linux Apache MySQL, PHP/Perl/Python) stack to host the webpage. Use client-side scripting to build the contact form. Integrate the form with Amazon WorkMail.
- B. Host a dynamic contact form page in Amazon Elastic Container Service (Amazon ECS). Set up Amazon Simple Email Service (Amazon SES) to connect to any third-party email provider.
- C. Create an Amazon API Gateway endpoint with an AWS Lambda backend that makes a call to Amazon Simple Email Service (Amazon SES).
- D. Convert the static webpage to dynamic by deploying Amazon Lightsail. Use client-side scripting to build the contact form. Integrate the form with Amazon WorkMail.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

Create a t2 micro Amazon EC2 instance. Deploy a LAMP (Linux Apache MySQL, PHP/Perl/Python) stack to host the webpage. Use client-side scripting to build the contact form. Integrate the form with Amazon WorkMail. This solution will provide the company with the necessary components to host the contact form page and integrate it with Amazon WorkMail at the lowest cost. Option A requires the use of Amazon ECS, which is more expensive than EC2, and Option B requires the use of Amazon API Gateway, which is also more expensive than EC2. Option C requires the use of Amazon Lightsail, which is more expensive than EC2.

NEW QUESTION # 504

A company provides a trading platform to customers. The platform uses an Amazon API Gateway REST API, AWS Lambda functions, and an Amazon DynamoDB table. Each trade that the platform processes invokes a Lambda function that stores the trade data in Amazon DynamoDB. The company wants to ingest trade data into a data lake in Amazon S3 for near real-time analysis. Which solution will meet these requirements with the LEAST operational overhead?

- A. Enable Amazon Kinesis Data Streams on the DynamoDB table to capture the trade data changes. Configure a data stream to be the input for Amazon Data Firehose. Write the data from Data Firehose to Amazon S3.
- B. Enable Amazon Kinesis Data Streams on the DynamoDB table to capture the trade data changes. Configure Kinesis Data Streams to invoke a Lambda function that writes the data to Amazon S3.
- C. Use Amazon DynamoDB Streams to capture the trade data changes. Configure DynamoDB Streams to invoke a Lambda function that writes the data to Amazon S3.
- D. Use Amazon DynamoDB Streams to capture the trade data changes. Configure DynamoDB Streams to invoke a Lambda function that writes the data to Amazon Data Firehose. Write the data from Data Firehose to Amazon S3.

Answer: C

Explanation:

DynamoDB Streams: Captures real-time changes in DynamoDB tables and allows integration with Lambda for processing the changes.

Minimal Operational Overhead: Using a Lambda function directly to write data to S3 ensures simplicity and reduces the complexity of the pipeline.

NEW QUESTION # 505

A company deployed a serverless application that uses Amazon DynamoDB as a database layer. The application has experienced a large increase in users. The company wants to improve database response time from milliseconds to microseconds and to cache requests to the database.

Which solution will meet these requirements with the LEAST operational overhead?

- A. Migrate the database to Amazon Redshift.
- B. Use Amazon ElastiCache for Redis.
- C. Migrate the database to Amazon RDS.
- D. Use DynamoDB Accelerator (DAX).

Answer: D

Explanation:

DynamoDB Accelerator (DAX) is a fully managed, highly available caching service built for Amazon DynamoDB. DAX delivers up to a 10 times performance improvement—from milliseconds to microseconds—even at millions of requests per second. DAX does all the heavy lifting required to add in-memory acceleration to your DynamoDB tables, without requiring developers to manage cache invalidation, data population, or cluster management. Now you can focus on building great applications for your customers without worrying about performance at scale. You do not need to modify application logic because DAX is compatible with existing DynamoDB API calls. This solution will meet the requirements with the least operational overhead, as it does not require any code development or manual intervention.

NEW QUESTION # 506

A company hosts its multi-tier applications on AWS. For compliance, governance, auditing, and security, the company must track configuration changes on its AWS resources and record a history of API calls made to these resources.

What should a solutions architect do to meet these requirements?

- A. Use AWS Config to track configuration changes and Amazon CloudWatch to record API calls
- B. Use AWS Config to track configuration changes and AWS CloudTrail to record API calls
- C. Use AWS CloudTrail to track configuration changes and AWS Config to record API calls
- D. Use AWS CloudTrail to track configuration changes and Amazon CloudWatch to record API calls

Answer: B

Explanation:

AWS Config is a fully managed service that allows the company to assess, audit, and evaluate the configurations of its AWS resources. It provides a detailed inventory of the resources in use and tracks changes to resource configurations. AWS Config can detect configuration changes and alert the company when changes occur. It also provides a historical view of changes, which is essential for compliance and governance purposes. AWS CloudTrail is a fully managed service that provides a detailed history of API calls made to the company's AWS resources. It records all API activity in the AWS account, including who made the API call, when the call was made, and what resources were affected by the call. This information is critical for security and auditing purposes, as it allows the company to investigate any suspicious activity that might occur on its AWS resources.

NEW QUESTION # 507

A company wants to protect resources that the company hosts on AWS, including Application Load Balancers and Amazon CloudFront distributions.

The company wants an AWS service that can provide near real-time visibility into attacks on the company's resources. The service must also have a dedicated AWS team to assist with DDoS attacks.

Which AWS service will meet these requirements?

- A. Amazon Macie
- B. AWS WAF
- C. AWS Shield Advanced
- D. AWS Shield Standard

Answer: C

Explanation:

AWS Shield Advanced provides:

Advanced DDoS detection and mitigation

24/7 access to the AWS DDoS Response Team (DRT)

Real-time metrics and alerts via CloudWatch

Integrated with CloudFront, ALB, Route 53, and Global Accelerator

"Shield Advanced provides enhanced detection and mitigation for more sophisticated DDoS attacks and gives you access to the AWS DDoS Response Team (DRT)."

- AWS Shield Advanced Overview

Incorrect Options:

A (AWS WAF): For application-layer filtering only.

B (Shield Standard): Basic protection, no DRT or attack visibility.

C (Macie): Used for discovering sensitive data in S3, unrelated to DDoS.
