IBM Cloud Pak for Data v4.7 Architect Sample Questions (Q109-Q114):

NEW QUESTION # 109

In what ways can data ingestion into watsonx.data be optimized for better performance?

- A. Utilizing manual processes for data integration
- B. Ignoring data quality during ingestion
- C. By only using real-time data streaming
- D. Leveraging both batch and real-time data ingestion

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 110

If a Cloud Pak for Data cluster is air-gapped, it is unable to reach the internet, and a private registry must be configured for installations and upgrades. Beyond container images, what other components need to be addressed?

- A. Data movement between nodes must be blocked via firewall rules.
- B. License validation requires periodic updates via internet proxy.
- C. Utilities, like pip, still require a connection to the internet by default.

- D. Platform monitoring messages are sent via an internet messaging hub.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In air-gapped (offline) environments, it's not just the container images that require preparation. Package managers like pip (for Python) and other utilities commonly attempt to pull dependencies from public internet repositories. These must be redirected to internal mirrors or handled via offline bundles. If left unaddressed, certain operations within components like Jupyter notebooks, Watson Studio, or pipelines may fail. License validation and monitoring do not inherently require internet access, and data movement between nodes is part of normal cluster function-not something to be blocked.

NEW QUESTION # 111

Which of the following best describes the business value of DataStage?

- A. It decreases the flexibility in handling various data formats.
- B. It reduces the operational cost by automating data integration tasks.
- C. It solely enhances the aesthetic appeal of data reports.
- D. It increases the need for manual intervention in data processing.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 112
