Fortinet FCP - FortiSandbox 5.0 Administrator Sample Questions (Q29-Q34):

NEW QUESTION # 29

You are asked to configure a FortiSandbox HA cluster. Port 4 on the primary and secondary nodes is dedicated for HA-specific communication. Which command must you use to configure the primary node? (Choose one answer)

- A. `hc-settings -sc -tR -nPrimaryNode -cFSAGrp -p -iport4`
- B. `hc-settings -sc -tM -nPrimaryNode -cFSAGrp -p -iport4`
- C. `hc-settings -sc -tF -nPrimaryNode -cFSAGrp -p -iport4`
- D. `hc-settings -sc -tN -nPrimaryNode -cFSAGrp -p -iport4`

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Study Guide states that HA is configured from the CLI and that "the main HA cluster CLI commands are hc-settings, hc-slave, and hc-status". It also explains that "You use the hc-settings command and options to configure the main HA settings... node alias, group name, group password, and the HA interface." The same HA section further says that the primary and secondary nodes must have a dedicated HA communication interface, and specifically notes that "port4 in this example" is the HA interface between them. On the primary-node example configuration shown on page 137 of the uploaded study guide, the command uses -tM for the primary node with -iport4 for the HA interface. That directly matches option D. The other options use different node-type flags and do not correspond to the primary-node example. Therefore, the correct command is hc-settings -sc -tM -nPrimaryNode -cFSAGrp -p<password> -iport4.

NEW QUESTION # 30

You are asked to create an 802.3ad interface on FortiSandbox with port 2 and port 4. However, when attempting to make the configuration change, you discover that you cannot select port 4 for the aggregate bonding. What are two reasons for this issue? (Choose two answers)

- A. Port 4 is an administration interface.
- B. Port 4 does not have an IP address.
- C. Port 4 is a sniffer interface.
- D. Port 4 is an api interface.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

From the Deployment and System Settings lesson, the Study Guide states:

"Other ports, with the exception of port3, can also be configured as management ports from CLI."

"You can set additional ports as management port using the CLI command shown on this slide." From the Lab Guide (Exercise 4 - Using Inline Scanning):

"FortiGate and FortiSandbox communicate through port 4443. Management or API ports grant access through port 4443."

"Enter the following command to enable API access on port2: set api-port port2" Ports that are designated as either administration interfaces or API interfaces cannot be selected for 802.3ad aggregate bonding because:

Option A - Port 4 configured as an administration interface is reserved for management traffic and cannot be repurposed for link aggregation
Option C - Port 4 configured as an API interface is dedicated for API communication (port 4443) and is similarly restricted from being used in aggregate bonding configurations
Port 4 in the Lab Guide is specifically referenced as the HA communication and management port, confirming these restrictions apply when special roles are assigned to interfaces.

NEW QUESTION # 31

You are attempting to troubleshoot a FortiGate device that is not sending samples to FortiSandbox. Which CLI command will provide you with useful diagnostic information? (Choose one answer)

- A. diagnose test application quarantined 8
- B. diagnose antivirus quarantine purge
- C. diagnose debug application quarantine -1
- D. diagnose test application ipsmonitor 99

Answer: C

Explanation:

From the FortiGate Integration lesson, the Study Guide explicitly states:

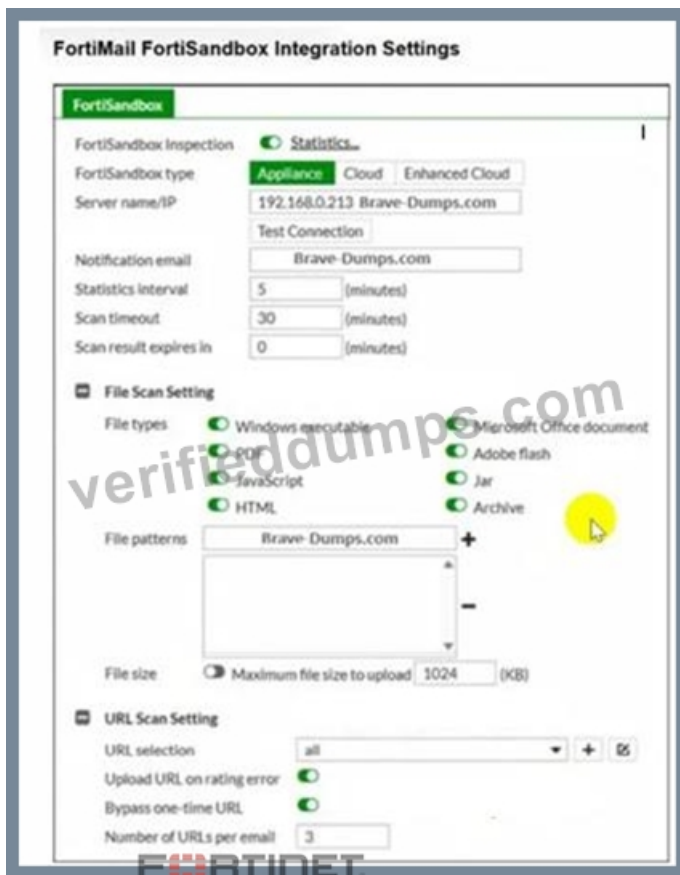

"The quarantine daemon is involved in submitting files to FortiSandbox." From the Lab Guide (Exercise 3 - Using FortiGate Diagnostics), the following is explicitly documented:

"Enter the following commands to enable debugging for the quarantine daemon: diagnose debug application quarantine -1 diagnose debug enable"

"Use the following CLI debug command to diagnose the connection and file transfer issue between HQ-FGT-1 and HQ-FSA-1: diagnose debug application quarantine -1" This command enables real-time debug output for the quarantine daemon on FortiGate, which is specifically responsible for submitting files to FortiSandbox and receiving verdicts. Option B clears the analytics cache rather than providing diagnostic information, and the other options relate to different functions entirely.

NEW QUESTION # 32

Review the exhibits.

A FortiMail device is integrated with a FortiSandbox device. What is the expected behavior on FortiMail for emails that require FortiSandbox inspection? (Choose one answer)

- A. FortiMail will queue emails for up to 5 minutes during URL rating errors before submitting URLs to FortiSandbox
- B. FortiMail will queue emails for up to 30 minutes to allow FortiSandbox to finish scanning all attachments and URLs.
- C. FortiMail will deliver all emails to the destination after the emails pass all local security checks.
- D. FortiMail will not send attachments and URLs to FortiSandbox if their rating exists in the local cache.

Answer: B

Explanation:

From the FortiMail Integration lesson, the Study Guide explicitly states:

"The Scan timeout value determines how long FortiMail will wait for a response from FortiSandbox. The default is 30 minutes. So, if after 30 minutes FortiSandbox is unable to generate a verdict, FortiMail will release the email to the end user."

"SMTP is a store-and-forward protocol. This allows FortiMail to queue the email while FortiSandbox inspects all submitted samples. FortiMail will release the email only if there is a scan timeout event, or FortiSandbox returns a clean verdict." The Integration Settings exhibit clearly confirms Scan timeout = 30 minutes, and the AV Profile shows both Attachment analysis and URL analysis are enabled - meaning FortiMail will hold/queue emails for up to 30 minutes while FortiSandbox completes inspection of all attachments and URLs before taking action.

NEW QUESTION # 33

What is the default timeout value on FortiGate for inline scanning mode? (Choose one answer)

- A. 300 seconds
- B. 30 minutes
- C. 50 seconds
- D. 40 minutes

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is B. 50 seconds. The Study Guide explicitly states: "FortiGate holds the file while waiting for a verdict from FortiSandbox... The default file inspection timeout, and maximum, is 50 seconds." This is the clearest direct statement for the default timeout used with inline scanning mode on FortiGate.

The Lab Guide confirms the same design limit from the operational side. During the inline scanning exercise, it notes: "Because of the inline scanning time-out limit (maximum of 50 seconds), it's not recommended to submit files for VM inspection." That reinforces that inline scanning is designed for quick decision phases such as active content, community cloud, antivirus, and static analysis, not long VM dynamic analysis jobs. Therefore, options A, C, and D are incorrect because they are far above the documented inline inspection limit. The default FortiGate inline scanning timeout is 50 seconds.
