NEW QUESTION # 274

The distance between a vehicle bomb and the target is called the:

- A. Clear zone
- B. Blast radius
- C. Standoff distance
- D. Impact area

Answer: C

Explanation:

Standoff distance refers to the space maintained between a potential explosive threat (such as a vehicle-borne improvised explosive device, or VBIED) and the target asset. Increasing standoff distance significantly reduces the impact of a blast by leveraging the inverse-square law, which governs blast pressure dissipation over distance.

A (Blast radius) is the area affected by an explosion.

B (Impact area) refers to where a blast or projectile strikes.

C (Clear zone) is used in security but does not specifically refer to bomb offset.

NEW QUESTION # 275

A person who already knows and understands the basics of loss prevention and security is known as:

- A. Review personnel
- B. None of the above
- C. Supportive person
- D. Engaged liaison

Answer: B

Explanation:

The description in the question refers to a "qualified" or "trained" individual in security or loss prevention, but none of the answer choices-Engaged liaison, Review personnel, Supportive person-specifically identify a person already knowledgeable in loss prevention and security. Therefore, "None of the above" is the correct choice as it best fits the context.

Engaged liaison (A) refers to someone facilitating coordination, not necessarily with security knowledge.

Review personnel (B) and Supportive person (C) are too generic and do not accurately define a trained security professional.

NEW QUESTION # 276

A corporation is in need of security personnel to guard visitor parking lots, highly sensitive projects, and top- secret projects. What is the MOST viable and cost-effective security staffing strategy for the corporation?

- A. Contract
- B. Total systems
- C. Proprietary
- D. Hybrid

Answer: D

Explanation:

A hybrid staffing model uses both proprietary and contract security personnel. In this scenario:

Proprietary staff can be assigned to sensitive and top-secret projects for tighter control, loyalty, and internal vetting.

Contract staff can manage less critical areas such as visitor parking, reducing cost. This model is both secure and cost-effective, offering flexibility and risk-based deployment. B (Contract) is cost-effective but lacks control for sensitive tasks. C (Proprietary) is highly secure but more expensive. D (Total systems) is not a staffing strategy.
