NEW QUESTION # 43

A user is reporting that after they sign in to Gmail, their labels are not loading and buttons are not responsive.

What action should you take to troubleshoot this issue with the user?

- A. Check whether traceroute to service.google.com (pop.google.com or imap.google.com) is successful.
- B. Check whether a ping test to service.google.com (pop.google.com or imap.google.com) is successful.
- C. Check whether the issue occurs when the user authenticates on a different device or a new incognito window.
- D. Collect full message headers for examination.

Answer: C

Explanation:

* Testing on Different Device or Incognito Window:

* This helps determine if the issue is related to the user's current device, browser, or cached data.

* Incognito mode runs a clean session without extensions or cached data, which can help identify if browser settings or cache are causing the issue.

* Steps to Test:

* Ask the user to sign in to Gmail on a different device (e.g., another computer or mobile phone).

* Alternatively, instruct the user to open a new incognito or private browsing window in their browser and sign in to Gmail.

* Observe if the problem persists in these different environments.

NEW QUESTION # 44

Your company has just received a shipment of ten Chromebooks to be deployed across the company, four of which will be used by remote employees. In order to prepare them for use, you need to register them in Google Workspace.

What should you do?

- A. Turn on the Chromebook and press Ctrl+Alt+E at the login screen to begin enterprise enrollment.
- B. In Chrome Management | Device Settings, enable Forced Re-enrollment for all devices.

- C. Instruct the employees to log in to the Chromebook. Upon login, the auto enrollment process will begin.
- D. Turn on the chromebook and log in as a Chrome Device admin. Press Ctrl+Alt+E to begin enterprise enrollment.

Answer: A

Explanation:

To prepare the Chromebooks for use and register them in Google Workspace, enterprise enrollment is required. This process ensures that the devices are managed under your organization's policies.

Enterprise Enrollment: This is a process that ties a Chromebook to your organization's Google Workspace account, applying policies and settings you've configured in the Google Admin console.

Steps for Enrollment:

Turn on the Chromebook: Start the device and wait for the login screen to appear.

Initiate Enrollment: Press Ctrl + Alt + E at the login screen. This key combination is specifically designed to start the enterprise enrollment process.

Sign In: Use the credentials of an account that has the necessary permissions to enroll devices (typically a Google Workspace admin account).

Complete Enrollment: Follow the prompts to complete the process. The device will now be managed under your organization's policies.

Re-enrollment Settings: It's recommended to enable forced re-enrollment in the Google Admin console to ensure that devices cannot be used without being enrolled again if they are wiped.
