NEW QUESTION # 242

Which Security policy action will message a user's browser that their web session has been terminated?

- A. Deny
- B. Reset server
- C. Reset client
- D. Drop

Answer: C

Explanation:

Sending a reset only to the client would ensure, for example, internal hosts receive a notification the session was reset and the browser is not left spinning or the application can close the established session while the remote server is left unaware.
