Salesforce Certified Omnistudio Consultant Sample Questions (Q33-Q38):

NEW QUESTION # 33

A company has deployed an OmniScript that is working as designed. During the process, the OmniScript has multiple steps that allow the user to review lists of cases, contacts, quotes, orders, and contracts for an account. Each step uses DataRaptor Extract Actions to retrieve Salesforce data. However, the OmniScript is reaching performance limitations, and the development team warns that they may begin hitting Governor limits.

Which two suggestions should the consultant propose to address this concern?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Add Order By filter in DataRaptor Extract
- B. Add Limit filter in DataRaptor Extract
- C. Combine the DataRaptors into an Integration Procedure
- D. Replace the DataRaptor Extracts with DataRaptor Turbo Extracts

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

To improve the performance and avoid hitting Governor limits, the consultant should replace the DataRaptor Extracts with DataRaptor Turbo Extracts and combine them into an Integration Procedure. DataRaptor Turbo Extracts are optimized for speed and efficiency, and can retrieve large amounts of data without using SOQL queries. An Integration Procedure can execute multiple DataRaptor actions in one call, reducing the number of requests and processing time.

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which of the following is a key difference between Integration Procedures and DataRaptors?

- A. DataRaptors can invoke multiple actions in a single server call.
- B. DataRaptors can access data from external sources.
- C. Integration Procedures can access data from external sources.
- D. Integration Procedures can retrieve data from multiple related objects.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The key difference between Integration Procedures and DataRaptors is that Integration Procedures can access data from external sources, while DataRaptors can only access data from Salesforce. Integration Procedures allow the designer to create complex API queries declaratively using HTTP Actions or SOAP Actions.

DataRaptors allow the designer to read, transform, and write data between Salesforce objects or fields. Both Integration Procedures and DataRaptors can invoke multiple actions in a single server call, and both can retrieve data from multiple related objects.

NEW QUESTION # 35

A consultant is designing a Flexcard for a client. The client wants to customize the look of each element on the Flexcard.

What tool should the consultant use to meet the client's requirements?

- A. Use Omniscripts to customize the look of each element.
- B. Use Data Mapper to customize the look of each element.
- C. Use the style panel in the Flexcard Designer to customize the look of each element.
- D. Use Integration Procedures to customize the look of each element.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Below are the formatted questions with 100% verified answers based on official Salesforce OmniStudio documentation, including comprehensive explanations and references.

NEW QUESTION # 36

A consultant is designing a solution for a client using OmniStudio. The client wants to display data and launch actions from their Salesforce org.

Which OmniStudio tool should the consultant use to meet this requirement?

- A. Integration Procedures
- B. DataRaptors
- C. OmniScripts
- D. FlexCards

Answer: D

Explanation:

* FlexCards (B) - FlexCards are designed to display data from Salesforce and launch actions such as OmniScripts, Integration Procedures, or external API calls.

* FlexCards allow users to interact with data dynamically while keeping the UI simple and intuitive.

* A. DataRaptors - These are used for extracting, transforming, and loading data, but they do not have a UI component to display data.

* C. OmniScripts - OmniScripts are used for step-by-step guided interactions but are not meant for displaying data at a glance like FlexCards.

* D. Integration Procedures - These are used for server-side processing but do not display data or provide UI elements.

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth Explanation: Why not the other options?? Salesforce OmniStudio Reference:

* FlexCards Overview

* Launching Actions from FlexCards

NEW QUESTION # 37

A Salesforce OmniStudio Consultant is validating an Omniscript they have developed for a client. The client has specific business requirements that the script must meet.

What is the best way for the consultant to ensure that the Omniscript meets the client's business requirements?

- A. Ask the client to review the Omniscript with their internal team.
- B. Assume that the Omniscript meets the client's business requirements without conducting a review.
- C. Conduct a thorough review of the Omniscript, comparing each step with the client's business requirements.
- D. Implement the Omniscript without comparing it with the client's business requirements.

Answer: C

Explanation:

* Conducting a thorough review (C) - The best way to ensure the OmniScript meets the business requirements is to review each step and compare it with the documented requirements.

* This includes validating the data flow, user interactions, and integration points to make sure the script functions as intended.

* A. Implement the OmniScript without comparing it with the client's business requirements - Skipping the review process can lead to errors and misalignment with business needs.

* B. Assume that the OmniScript meets the client's business requirements without conducting a review - This is risky and unprofessional; assumptions should not replace validation.

* D. Ask the client to review the OmniScript with their internal team - While client feedback is important, the consultant must first conduct their own thorough review before involving the client.

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth Explanation: Why not the other options?? Salesforce OmniStudio Reference:

* OmniScript Best Practices & Validation

* OmniScript Testing & Debugging
