QUIZ 1

- As the world and business change, organizations have to decide between embracing new technology and transforming, or keeping their technology and approaches the same. What risks might an organization face by not transforming as their market evolves?
  - Focusing on 'how' they operate can prevent organizations from seeing transformation opportunities.
- An organization has made significant investments in their own infrastructure and has regulatory requirements for their data to be hosted on-premises. Which cloud implementation would best suit their needs?
  - Private Cloud
- What is the cloud?
  - A metaphor for a network of data centers.
- What is seen as a limitation of on-premises infrastructure, when compared to cloud infrastructure?
  - The on-premises hardware procurement process can take a long time.
- What is the benefit of implementing a transformation cloud that is based on open infrastructure?
  - Open source software reduces the chance of vendor lock-in.
- Which item describes a goal of an organization seeking digital transformation?
  - Break down data silos and generate real-time insights.
- Select the definition of digital transformation.
  - When an organization uses new digital technologies to create or modify business processes, culture, and customer experiences.
- Select the two capabilities that form the basis of a transformation cloud. Select two correct answers.
  - Data cloud provides a unified solution to manage data across the entire data lifecycle.
  - Open infrastructure gives the freedom to innovate by running applications in the place that makes the most sense.
- An organization has a new application, and user subscriptions are growing faster than on-premises infrastructure can handle. What benefit of the cloud might help them in this situation?
  - It's scalable, so the organization could shorten their infrastructure deployment time.

QUIZ 2

- An organization wants to ensure they have redundancy of their resources so their application remains available in the event of a disaster. How can they ensure this happens?
  - By putting resources in different zones.
- An organization has shifted from a CapEx to OpEx based spending model. Which of these statements is true?
  - They will only pay for what they use.
- Which network performance metric describes the amount of data a network can transfer in a given amount of time?

Google Cloud Digital Leader Sample Questions (Q227-Q232):

NEW QUESTION # 227

Your organization runs many workloads in different Google Cloud projects, each linked to the same billing account. Each project's workload costs can vary from month to month, but the overall combined cost of all projects is relatively stable. Your organization needs to optimize its cost.

What should your organization do?

- A. Purchase a commitment per project for each project's usual minimum
- B. Move all workloads from all different projects into one single consolidated project
- C. Create a billing account per project, and link each project to a different billing account
- D. Turn on committed use discount sharing, and create a commitment for the combined usage

Answer: D

Explanation:

Turn on committed use discount sharing, and create a commitment for the combined usage. Sharing your committed use discounts across all your projects reduces the overhead of managing discounts on a per-project basis, and maximizes your savings by pooling all your discounts across your projects' resource usage. If you have multiple projects that share the same Cloud Billing account, you can enable committed use discount sharing so all of your projects within that Cloud Billing account share all of your committed use discount contracts. Your sustained use discounts are also pooled at the same time. That is, sustained use discounts are calculated using the total resources across these projects, rather than just the resources within a single project.

NEW QUESTION # 228

The customer has applications that do data processing on-premise. They have been built using Hadoop and Spark. What product should I use on Google Cloud?

- A. Dataflow
- B. Dataprep
- C. Dataplex
- D. Dataproc

Answer: D

Explanation:

Because Dataproc is used to run Hadoop/Spark workloads

NEW QUESTION # 229

NEW QUESTION # 230

An information security organization must ensure that its service providers have ISO 27001 certification. They must also access supporting documentation. Which Google Cloud tool should they use?

- A. Security Command Center
- B. Compliance Reports Manager
- C. Cloud Monitoring
- D. Network Intelligence Center

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is C. Compliance Reports Manager. Here's why:

* Context of the Question: The organization needs to ensure that its service providers have ISO 27001 certification and access supporting documentation. ISO 27001 is an international standard for information security management systems (ISMS), and organizations often need to verify compliance through certified reports.

* Google Cloud Product Relevance:

* Compliance Reports Manager is a tool within the Google Cloud Console that provides access to various compliance and security documentation, including ISO 27001 certification. It allows customers to view and download compliance reports, making it the appropriate choice for verifying certifications and accessing related documents.

* Why Not Other Options:

* A. Network Intelligence Center: This tool is designed for network monitoring, visibility, and troubleshooting and is unrelated to compliance management.

* B. Cloud Monitoring: This is a tool for observability of your cloud resources, monitoring performance, and uptime, not for compliance documentation.

* D. Security Command Center: This tool provides a centralized view of your security posture, including identifying and managing risks, but it does not offer compliance documentation or reports.

Google Cloud Digital Leader References:

* Refer to Compliance Reports Manager in the Google Cloud documentation for details on accessing compliance and security documentation, including certifications like ISO 27001.

NEW QUESTION # 231

An organization needs to store daily transactional data such as customer records and purchase history. The data follows a consistent schema and is cross-referenced. Which type of service should the organization use?

- A. Non-relational database
- B. Data warehouse
- C. Data lake
- D. Relational database

Answer: D

Explanation:

Relational databases are ideal for storing transactional data that follows a consistent schema and requires cross-referencing (e.g., customer records and purchase history). They provide ACID (Atomicity, Consistency, Isolation, Durability) compliance, which is essential for reliable transaction processing.

Option C: Relational database is correct because it is specifically designed for structured data with a consistent schema and supports complex queries and cross-referencing of data, which is essential for transactional systems.
