A large online university uses Salesforce with the Education Data Architecture (EDA) to manage its operations. Its Salesforce environment has a large volume of records and it takes a long time to search and generate list views.

Which feature should the consultant use to resolve the issue?

- A. Table-Driven Trigger Management
- B. Custom Index
- C. Data Loader error logs

- D. MuleSoft Anypoint Platform

Answer: B

Explanation:

The consultant should use a custom index to resolve the issue of taking a long time to search and generate list views for the large online university's Salesforce environment that has a large volume of records and uses EDA. A custom index is a feature that allows users to create an index on a field that is not indexed by default, such as a custom field, a long text area field, or a multi-select picklist field. A custom index can help improve the performance and speed of queries and list views that use the indexed field as a filter. The consultant should identify the fields that are frequently used in searches and list views, and request Salesforce Support to create a custom index on them. MuleSoft Anypoint Platform, Data Loader error logs, and Table-Driven Trigger Management are not features that can resolve the issue of taking a long time to search and generate list views for the large online university's Salesforce environment that has a large volume of records and uses EDA. A consultant is writing an Apex class to run when a new Contact is created in a Salesforce environment where Education Data Architecture (EDA) is in use.

What should the consultant do to ensure the code executes in the order intended?

- A. Use Table-Driven Trigger Management (TDTM) to set the order of execution.
- B. Write an Apex trigger to set the order of execution.
- C. Go to EDA Settings to set the order of execution.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Table-Driven Trigger Management (TDTM) is a tool to manage the code in Salesforce and control how Apex behaves⁵. TDTM allows the consultant to easily rearrange the order of things via a table in the Salesforce interface (hence, the "Table-Driven" in TDTM)⁶. TDTM is part of the Education Data Architecture (EDA) and can be accessed from EDA Settings⁵. Reference:

The Executive Education department uses Salesforce to track sales of custom education programs to corporations and organizations. The department director needs to know the pipeline of custom programs.

How should the consultant meet this business requirement?

- A. Use an Opportunity report.
- B. Create custom report type.
- C. Set up an Affiliations report.
- D. Configure a list view.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The consultant should use an Opportunity report to meet the business requirement of showing the pipeline of custom programs for the Executive Education department. An Opportunity report is a type of report that shows information about Opportunities, such as amount, stage, probability, or close date. An Opportunity report can help the department director know the pipeline of custom programs by showing the distribution and performance of Opportunities by various criteria, such as program type, account, or owner. Creating a custom report type, setting up an Affiliations report, or configuring a list view are not ways to meet the business requirement of showing the pipeline of custom programs for the Executive Education department.
