HPE Aruba Networking Switching Professional Exam Sample Questions (Q130-Q135):

NEW QUESTION # 130
Which CLI command displays LACP status on an Aruba CX switch?

- A. show trunk
- B. show lacp
- C. show lacp interfaces
- D. show link-aggregation

Answer: B

Explanation:
The show lacp command displays aggregated links, including active interfaces, negotiation status, and operational state, aiding in troubleshooting link issues.

NEW QUESTION # 131

You are configuring OSPF on each of the devices shown. After verifying the OSPF neighbor table on each, you notice that Router-1 and Access-1 have neighbors in the 2WAY state. What is the reason for this?

- A. Router-1 and Access-1 have reached a tie in the DR election.
- B. IGMP snooping has been configured on Router-1 and Access-1.
- C. This is normal behavior for OSPF neighbors on a broadcast network.
- D. Router-1 and Access-1 have no OSPF networks to advertise.

Answer: C

Explanation:

OSPF neighbors on broadcast networks typically reach the 2WAY state during the DR/BDR election process.

It is normal behavior for OSPF neighbors on a broadcast network to be in the 2WAY state until a Designated Router (DR) and Backup DR (BDR) are elected.

The tie in DR election explains why multiple neighbors can be in 2WAY.

No OSPF networks advertised would not cause 2WAY.

IGMP snooping does not affect OSPF adjacency states.

NEW QUESTION # 132

Your customer has an existing gateway cluster that they are using to tunnel traffic from APs and would like to configure the same for their CX switches. Which tunneling option should you recommend?

- A. IPSec
- B. VNBT
- C. UBT
- D. GRE

Answer: C

Explanation:

The customer wants to tunnel traffic from APs through CX switches, similar to what they currently do with a gateway cluster.

Aruba's User-Based Tunneling (UBT) is designed specifically for this use case. UBT allows traffic from wireless and wired clients to be tunneled to a centralized gateway or controller for policy enforcement and traffic inspection.

IPSec and GRE are general tunneling protocols but not Aruba's recommended solution for AP traffic.

VNBT relates to colorless ports and dynamic segmentation, not tunneling client traffic.

Thus, UBT is the correct tunneling solution for AP traffic through CX switches.

NEW QUESTION # 133

You have applied the following OSPF configuration but are seeing the output from the command below. What is the reason for this?

- A. A Layer-3 interface has not been associated with a VRF
- B. A loopback interface hasn't been configured on Agg-2
- C. A different OSPF process ID is used on each switch
- D. OSPF interfaces are passive by default

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 134

Which CLI command checks if a switch is correctly forwarding multicast traffic?

- A. show ip mroute
- B. show multicast interfaces
- C. display pim state
- D. show multicast forwarding

Answer: A

Explanation:
The show ip mroute command displays multicast forwarding tables, helping troubleshoot multicast traffic delivery issues in Layer 3 networks.
