- C. It upgrades the OS of each FortiGate device.
- D. It uses templates to configure the same settings on many devices simultaneously.

Answer: D

Explanation:

FortiManager is designed to simplify mass provisioning across large networks by allowing administrators to:

- Create configuration templates (for interfaces, routing, firewall policies, etc.)
- Apply these templates to multiple FortiGate devices or VDOMs at once
- Ensure consistency and speed in deployment and updates

This is especially useful in environments with many branch offices or remote sites, where manual configuration would be time-consuming and error-prone..

NEW QUESTION # 63

Refer to the exhibit. Which two statements about the output are true? (Choose two.)

FortiManager # diagnose dvm device list
--- There are currently 6 devices/vdoms managed
--- There are currently 6 devices/vdoms count for license ---

					- STATUS: dev-db: not modified; conf: in sync; cond: pending; dm: installed; conn: up; template:[modified]default
					- vdom:[3]root flags:0 adom:My_ADOM pkg:[imported]BR1-FGT-1

- A. The latest revision history for the managed FortiGate does not match the device-level database.
- B. The latest revision history for the managed FortiGate does match the FortiManager policy database.
- C. Configuration changes have been installed on FortiGate, updating policy and device-level database.
- D. The system template default will override device-level database configurations.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

The status "pending" indicates the latest revision history does not match the device-level database, meaning there are unapplied changes.

The template is marked as [modified], so the system template default will override device-level database configurations when installed.
