NEW QUESTION # 102
By what step at most should the analysis of input and its future standardization be decided upon?

- A. During talks with the SME and Business Owner
- B. During As-ls process documentation
- C. During To-Be process documentation
- D. During process analysis

Answer: D

Explanation:
The analysis of input and its future standardization should ideally be decided upon during the process analysis phase. This phase involves a detailed review of the current process inputs and outputs, identifying variations, and establishing standardization requirements. During process analysis, a thorough examination of all elements related to the workflow is conducted, which enables the identification of areas where standardization can lead to greater efficiency and consistency. Deciding on standardization at this stage helps ensure that the designed automation will be robust, scalable, and aligned with the organization's goals.
The information is based on the UiPath Automation Business Analyst Learning Plans and the Automation Business Analysis Fundamentals course available on the UiPath Academy, which addresses topics covered in the UiPath Automation Business Analyst (UiABA) certification exam

How can attended process execution be scheduled?

- A. They cannot be scheduled but users can set reminders
- B. Both from Assistant and Orchestrator
- C. Only from Assistant
- D. Only from Orchestrator

Answer: A

Explanation:

Attended process execution in UiPath cannot be scheduled in the same way as unattended processes.

However, users can set reminders using the UiPath Assistant. While the Assistant allows for reminders to be set, it does not schedule the process to run automatically. The user must manually start the process after being reminded. This is in contrast to unattended processes, which can be scheduled to run automatically at specified times through the Orchestrator12.

References: The explanation is based on the UiPath Community Forum discussions and the UiPath Documentation Portal's information on scheduling processes12.

Can we configure non-working days in UiPath Orchestrator?

- A. Yes, they can be configured in the Settings page.
- B. Yes, they can be set up in the Triggers page.
- C. No, they are automatically determined by the system.
- D. No, they are determined based on the individual Robot's schedules.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Configuring Non-Working Days in UiPath Orchestrator:

UiPath Orchestrator allows you to define non-working days on the Triggers page. This ensures that triggers for automations are not executed on days marked as non-working, maintaining compliance with scheduling requirements.

Why Option A is Correct:

The Triggers page provides the functionality to set up schedules, including defining specific days when automations should not run.

Why Other Options Are Incorrect:

Option B: Non-working days are not determined automatically.

Option C: Individual robot schedules do not dictate global non-working days.

Option D: Non-working days cannot be configured in the Settings page.
