NEW QUESTION # 37

A customer wants to implement a customer community. Authenticated users will be able to log cases, manage their account and contact information, and apply/view their grant applications.

What two security settings should be configured to ensure the community is secure and no extra information is available to the authenticated community users?

- A. Set Org-Wide Defaults for External Users to Hidden for everything
- B. Set Org-Wide Defaults for External Users to Private for everything
- C. Set up Sharing Sets to grant authenticated users access to their Cases, Applications, and Accounts
- D. Set up Sharing Rules to grant authenticated users access to their Cases, Applications, and Accounts

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Org-wide defaults for external users determine the baseline level of access that guest users and authenticated community users have to records they do not own. Setting them to Hidden for everything means that external users cannot see any records by default, unless they are explicitly shared with them. Sharing sets are used to grant access to records that are associated with a specific user or profile in a community. By setting up sharing sets, the authenticated community users can access their own Cases, Applications, and Accounts, but not those of other users. References:

NEW QUESTION # 38

A government agency wants to implement the Licenses, Permits, and Inspections modules of Public Sector Solutions. The agency needs to issue licenses and permits to two different sets of constituents; business constituents and private constituents. The agency would like to roll out licenses and permits to their business constituents first, followed by the private constituents at a later date. What data model and implementation strategy should a technical consultant recommend to the government agency for this use case?

- A. Implement the Business Account and Contact data model for business constituents now, and implement the Household Account and Contact data model for private constituents at a later date.
- B. Implement both the Business Account and Contact data model for business constituents and the Person Account data model for private constituents at the same time.
- C. Implement both the Business Account and Contact data model for business constituents and the Household Account and Contact data model for private constituents at the same time.
- D. Implement the Business Account and Contact data model for business constituents now, and implement the Person Account data model for private constituents at a later date.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Implement the Business Account and Contact data model for business constituents now, and implement the Person Account data model. This answer fits because the requirement is about the specific platform mechanism named in the option, not a nearby workaround.

The Core Concept Explained: Inspection Management relies on a chain of reusable metadata and transaction records. Assessment definitions, visits, inspection results, and violations each serve a different purpose in the compliance lifecycle.

Step-by-Step Technical Analysis: Model the inspection lifecycle from the originating application to the Visit, assessment indicators, results, signatures, and any generated violations. Configure the reusable inspection metadata before inspectors begin work, then test a pass, fail, and issue scenario to confirm downstream records and regulatory references are created correctly. Implement the Business Account and Contact model for business constituents now, then implement the Person Account model for private constituents later.

Why the Incorrect Options Are Wrong: B does not meet the implementation-quality bar for security, scale, auditability, or maintainability in this scenario. C does not meet the implementation-quality bar for security, scale, auditability, or maintainability in this scenario. D does not meet the implementation-quality bar for security, scale, auditability, or maintainability in this scenario.
