NEW QUESTION # 275

Where permitted by state regulation, a pharmacy technician may be responsible for:

- A. Approving the validity of controlled substance prescriptions.
- B. Completing a clinical review of new prescriptions.
- C. Counseling patients on new prescriptions.
- D. Initiating the transfer of non-controlled substance prescriptions.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Pharmacy technician scope of practice is defined by state regulation and generally includes technical functions under a pharmacist's supervision. In many states, technicians may initiate transfers of non-controlled prescriptions (often technician-to-technician) as part of the dispensing workflow. Activities such as patient counseling (A), clinical review (B), and approving the validity of controlled prescriptions (D) are considered professional/judgmental tasks and are reserved for the pharmacist.

References (Pharmacy Technician documents / Study Guides):

* NABP Model State Pharmacy Act-differentiation of pharmacist vs. technician duties.

* PTCB/ExCPT role delineation: technician tasks include processing, data entry, and certain communications (e.g., non-controlled transfers) under pharmacist supervision; clinical judgment and counseling are pharmacist-only.

* State practice act summaries frequently used in technician training modules regarding transfers and controlled vs. non-controlled prescriptions.
