NEW QUESTION # 22

Which sequence of components represents an initial segment of a typical flow of data (I/O) in a PowerEdge 670 server from input to data being temporarily stored for active use?

- A. LAN -> NIC -> Memory Module
- B. LAN -> Disk Drive -> Memory Module
- C. CPUs -> Memory Module -> NIC
- D. NIC -> CPUs -> Disk Drive

Answer: A

Explanation:

In a PowerEdge 670 server, the typical I/O flow starts with data entering via the LAN, processed by the Network Interface Card (NIC), and then moved to the Memory Module for temporary storage and active use by the system. This sequence reflects how network data is received and staged in RAM for processing. CPUs process data after memory, and disk drives are for persistent storage, not initial flow. This aligns with server architecture for efficient data handling. Exact extract: "Describe the Memory and Expansion cards... Explain how different PowerEdge server models are better suited for specific roles."
