Microsoft Administering Information Security in Microsoft 365 Sample Questions (Q106-Q111):

NEW QUESTION # 106

You are creating a DLP policy named Policy1 that will be applied to the locations as shown in the following exhibit.

Choose where to apply the policy

We'll apply the policy to data that's stored in the locations you choose.

Protecting sensitive info in on-premises repositories (SharePoint sites and file shares) is now in preview. Note that there are prerequisite steps needed to support this new capability. Learn more about the prerequisites

Policy1 contains an advanced data loss prevention (DLP) rule named Rule1.

Which two conditions can you use in Rule1? Each correct answer presents a complete solution.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

- A. Content contains
- B. Document property is
- C. Attachment's file extension is
- D. Document size equals or is greater than
- E. Content is shared from Microsoft 365

Answer: A,E

Explanation:

You are creating a Data Loss Prevention (DLP) policy in Microsoft 365 with advanced rules. Advanced DLP rules provide more granular conditions and actions than standard DLP rules.

Conditions available in advanced DLP

According to Microsoft Docs on Conditions in DLP policies:

* # Content contains # Used to detect sensitive information types, keywords, or exact data matches.

This is one of the most common and fundamental DLP conditions.

* # Content is shared from Microsoft 365 # Used to detect whether content has been shared externally or with specific domains/users. This is a modern advanced DLP condition.

Why the others are not correct:

* A. Document property is # This condition applies to information governance retention policies /labels (not DLP). Not available in DLP rules.

* B. Attachment's file extension is # This is supported in Exchange mail flow rules (transport rules) but not in advanced DLP rules.

* C. Document size equals or is greater than # Also applies in Exchange transport rules and certain SharePoint restrictions, but not available as a DLP rule condition.

NEW QUESTION # 107

You have a Microsoft 365 E5 subscription that has a sensitivity label named Sensitivity1.

You plan to create an auto-labeling policy that will apply Sensitivity1 to Microsoft Exchange Online mailboxes.

On February 1, you create the auto-labeling policy and enable simulation mode by using the default settings.

No modifications are made to the policy in simulation mode.

When will the policy first be turned on?

- A. February 6
- B. February 2
- C. February 15
- D. never

Answer: C

Explanation:

When you create an auto-labeling policy for sensitivity labels and start it in simulation mode using the default settings, Microsoft Purview will automatically turn on the policy after 14 days if you make no changes during simulation. A policy created on February 1 would therefore be turned on on February 15.

NEW QUESTION # 110

You have a Microsoft 365 ES subscription

You need to implement Endpoint data loss prevention (Endpoint DLP) to meet the following requirements:

- * Ensure that users can upload data to only two sites named Site1 and Site2.
- * Prevent users from pasting data to two search engines named Search1 and Search2.
- * Minimize the number of policies and groups.

What is the minimum number of sensitive service domain groups and Endpoint DLP policies required? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Create one service domain group (Allow list) containing Site1 and Site2 and configure the policy action "Allow upload only to sensitive service domains".

Create a second service domain group (Block list) containing Search1 and Search2 and configure the policy action to block paste (clipboard) to these domains.

A single Endpoint DLP policy can enforce multiple activities (upload to cloud service domains + clipboard to specific domains), so only one policy is required.
