With BATCHSQL enabled, what causes a Replicat to use normal mode operation?

- A. Statements with rows between 8k and 24k in length
- B. When BATCHSQL and GROUPTRANSOPS coexist
- C. Statements that cause errors
- D. When server memory < 8 GB

Answer: A

Explanation:

When BATCHSQL is enabled in Oracle GoldenGate Replicat, it tries to optimize performance by grouping multiple SQL statements and applying them in batches using array operations. However, if an error occurs during the execution of a batched group of statements, GoldenGate automatically switches the Replicat into "normal mode" (i.e., one-by-one row apply) for that transaction to allow better error handling and diagnostics.

NEW QUESTION # 23

When using CHECKPOINT BEFORE for EVENTACTIONS, what will an Extract do?

- A. Extract will checkpoint on the starting boundary of the transaction.
- B. Extract will checkpoint at the end of the transaction.
- C. Extract will Abend while processing the transaction.
- D. Extract will stop at the end of the transaction.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The CHECKPOINT BEFORE clause in EVENTACTIONS causes the Extract to record a checkpoint at the beginning of the transaction, ensuring any triggered action can safely be retried if needed.

NEW QUESTION # 24

You must provide credentials, like a username and password, to access the database credentials store where the actual user credentials are stored. The credential store is preferable to using the database username and password in the commands or the parameter file. - A. Oracle SID
- B. UserIDAlias
