NEW QUESTION # 26
A partially created user story for an approval task has been added to the Product Backlog and you have been asked to review it.
So far, the user story includes acceptance criteria stating:
"Verify that the user can select approve or deny."
"Verify that the user can enter an approval comment."

What are two examples of additional content that need to be added to the user story before it can be considered complete?

- A. UI mockup
- B. Truth table
- C. Condition upon selecting either "deny" or "approve"
- D. User story description

Answer: C,D

Explanation:
User Story Description (B): A complete user story should include a detailed description that outlines the context, goals, and specific actions the user can perform. This helps in setting a clear understanding of what needs to be developed and why. The description provides the foundation for the user story and ensures that all stakeholders have a shared understanding of the requirement.Appian Documentation - Writing User Stories
Condition upon Selecting Either "Deny" or "Approve" (A): To ensure that the user story is complete, you must specify what happens when the user selects "deny" or "approve." This could include conditions such as sending notifications, triggering workflows, or updating statuses. Clearly defining these conditions ensures that the development team knows exactly what to implement and how the system should behave in different scenarios.Appian Documentation - Acceptance Criteria Examples

NEW QUESTION # 27
What are two benefits of creating future state process models (or process models-to-be)?

- A. They can help identify opportunities where Appian features can bring in automation.
- B. They capture integration definitions, showcasing necessary automation details.
- C. They capture Robotic Process Automation (RPA) intervention specifics from Appian.
- D. They can capture high-level product vision and goals.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:
Creating future state process models (or process models-to-be) has several benefits, including capturing the high-level product vision and identifying areas where Appian's features can introduce automation.
Capturing High-Level Product Vision and Goals (C):
Future state process models help in visualizing the desired end state of a process.
They provide a clear picture of how the process should function once all enhancements and improvements have been implemented.
This clarity aligns stakeholders around a common goal and ensures that development efforts are focused on delivering the desired outcomes.
Identifying Automation Opportunities (D):
By modeling the future state, teams can spot manual tasks and inefficiencies that could be automated using Appian's features like process modeling, smart services, and RPA.
This identification helps in streamlining processes and improving overall efficiency.
Why Not Other Options?:
A . RPA intervention specifics: While important, RPA specifics are typically captured during the detailed design phase rather than in high-level future state process models.
B . Integration definitions: These are technical details that are generally documented separately from high-level process models.
