APICS Certified in Planning and Inventory Management (CPIM 8.0) Sample Questions (Q21-Q26):

NEW QUESTION # 21

A security practitioner notices that workforce members retain access to information systems after transferring to new roles within the organization, which could lead to unauthorized changes to the information systems.

This is a direct violation of which common security model?

- A. Graham-Denning
- B. Clark-Wilson
- C. Take-Grant
- D. Bell-LaPadula

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 22

Which of the following is an access control method that organizations can use to prevent unauthorized access?

- A. Bring Your Own Device (BYOD)
- B. Digital verification
- C. Token-based authentication
- D. Man-in-the-Middle (MITM)

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 23

Components of an organization's Immediate industry and competitive environment Include:

- A. political factors.
- B. substitute products.
- C. sociocultural forces.
- D. interest rates.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Substitute products are components of an organization's immediate industry and competitive environment.

They are products or services that can satisfy the same customer needs or wants as the organization's offerings, but are provided by different industries or markets. Substitute products can affect the demand, price, and profitability of the organization's products, and require the organization to monitor and respond to the changes in customer preferences and competitive pressures. Political factors, interest rates, and sociocultural forces are examples of macroenvironmental factors, which are broader and more general forces that affect the organization and its industry, but are not directly related to its competitors or customers. NEW QUESTION # 24

An organization is considering options to outsource their Information Technology (IT) operations. Although they do not sell anything on the Internet, they have a strong requirement in uptime of their application. After evaluating the offerings received by the Cloud Service Provider (CSP), the IT manager decided it was mandatory to develop processes to continue operations without access to community or public cloud-based applications. Which of the following arguments MOST likely led the IT manager to make this decision?

- A. Integrity and confidentiality are not ensured properly on most cloud service offerings
- B. The need to develop alternative hosting strategies for applications deployed to the cloud
- C. Most cloud service offerings are unique to each provider and may not be easily portable
- D. Circumstances may force a cloud provider to discontinue operations

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 25

Which of the following product design approaches are likely to reduce time to market for a global supply chain?

- A. Design for manufacture
- B. Quality function deployment (QFD)
- C. Design for logistics
- D. Concurrent engineering

Answer: D

Explanation:

Concurrent engineering is a product design approach that involves the simultaneous and collaborative involvement of different functional areas, such as engineering, marketing, manufacturing, and suppliers, in the product development process. Concurrent engineering aims to reduce time to market, improve quality, lower costs, and enhance customer satisfaction by integrating and coordinating the inputs and feedback of all the stakeholders from the early stages of design. Concurrent engineering can also facilitate the standardization and modularization of product components, which can improve the flexibility and responsiveness of a global supply chain. References:
