Adobe Experience Manager DevOps Engineer Expert Sample Questions (Q94-Q99):

NEW QUESTION # 94

A DevOps engineer needs to configure SAML on an AEM author instance. Which items does the DevOps engineer need from the Identity Provider (IdP)?

- A. SSL certificate, ServiceEntity ID, IdP URL
- B. IdP PrivateKey, ServiceEntity ID, IdP URL
- C. Use an IdP-generated username instead of the IdP certificate
- D. IdP certificate, ServiceEntity ID, IdP URL

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 95

Significant load occurs during peak traffic hours with intermittent 503 responses from AEM publish instances. The DevOps engineer identifies that there is an AEM core component (Image) that creates renditions generated on request from large source files that range over 10 MB.

What should the DevOps engineer do?

- A. Check if path is allowed in cache rules.
- B. Restart apache process on Dispatcher(s).
- C. Increase Dispatcher memory size.
- D. Verify rewrite rules in site virtual host.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Intermittent 503 Service Unavailable errors on publish instances during peak traffic, specifically tied to heavy image rendition generation, indicate that the Publish servers' CPUs are being overwhelmed by repetitive processing. In AEM, these dynamic renditions should only be generated once and then cached by the Dispatcher. If the load is hitting the publish tier constantly, it means the Dispatcher is not caching those rendition requests. The DevOps engineer must check the /rules section under /cache in the dispatcher farm configuration to ensure that the URL patterns for these image renditions are permitted to be cached.

NEW QUESTION # 96

A developer needs to move content (/content/my-site/en/about-us) from a Stage (STG) Author environment to a Production (PROD) Author.

A content package named content-about-us-20210101 is created on STG Author.

Once the content is reviewed in PROD, the content Author will activate and make the content public.

Which command should the DevOps engineer use?

- A. curl -u < user > : < password > -O https:// < STG > /etc/packages/my_packages/content-about-us-20210101.zip curl -u admin:admin -F file=@content-about-us-20210101 -F name="content about us" -F force=true -F install=false http://localhost/crx/packmgr/service.jsp
- B. curl -u < user > : < password > -O https:// < STG > /etc/packages/my_packages/content-about-us-20210101.zip curl -u < user > : < password > -F install=true -F force=true -F file=@content-about-us-20210101.zip
https:// < PROD > /crx/packmgr/service.jsp
- C. curl -u admin:admin -X POST -F name="content about us" https:// < PROD > /crx/packmgr/service/.json/etc/packages/export
- D. curl -u < user > : < password > -O https:// < PROD > /etc/packages/my_packages/content-about-us-20210101.zip curl -u < user > : < password > -F install=true -F force=true -F file=@content-about-us-20210101.zip https:// < PROD > /crx/packmgr/service.jsp

Answer: B

Explanation:

To manually migrate a package between two AEM instances via the command line, the process involves two distinct curl commands using the Jackrabbit Package Manager API.

* Download: You must download the generated .zip file from the source (STG) environment using -O to save the remote file locally.

* Upload & Install: You must upload the local file to the target (PROD) environment and simultaneously install it by passing the -F file=@ < filename > along with the multipart form parameters -F install=true and -F force=true to the /crx/packmgr/service.jsp endpoint.

NEW QUESTION # 97

The development team needs to scale up their infrastructure and add an additional development environment to the CI/CD pipeline. The contract has been amended to allow for the additional environment. The DevOps engineer is expected to provision and include the environment into the pipeline.

What should the DevOps engineer do?

- A. Open a support ticket via the support portal and request an additional development environment to be provisioned in the same region as the other environments.
- B. Click on Add Environment in the Cloud Manager UI, define the environment type as development, and choose the region matching the other environments.
- C. Using the Developer Console within Cloud Manager, clone the current developer environment and re-assign the secret variables to cater for two developer environments.
- D. Use the Admin Console to provision a new development environment.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 98

A DevOps engineer needs to deploy a filevault package that contains a mixture of mutable and immutable paths to AEM as a Cloud Service, via Package Manager.

What should the DevOps engineer do?

- A. Refactor the content package, set the packageType to "mixed", and make sure it contains all subpackages and OSGi configurations.
- B. Refactor the content package, set the packageType to "mixed", and leave the filter.xml unchanged.
- C. Refactor the content package, set the packageType to "content", and make sure it contains all subpackages and OSGi configurations.
- D. Refactor the content package, set the packageType to "content", and set the inclusion filters to only /content or /conf.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In AEM as a Cloud Service, directly deploying packages via the AEM Package Manager UI is severely restricted. You cannot deploy immutable content (code, OSGi configs, or anything under /apps or /libs) via the Package Manager; immutable content must go through the CI/CD pipeline. If a DevOps engineer is forced to use the Package Manager, the package must be strictly limited to mutable content (authorable content, configurations under /conf, /content, /dam). Therefore, they must refactor the package, explicitly set the < packageType > to content, and update the filter.xml to exclude any immutable paths.
