You have an existing workflow that is triggered on a critical detection that sends an email to the escalation team. Your CISO has asked to also be notified via email with a customized message.

What is the best way to update the workflow?

- A. Add a parallel action to send a custom email to your CISO
- B. Add the CISO's email to the existing action
- C. Add a sequential action to send a custom email to your CISO
- D. Clone the workflow and replace the existing email with your CISO's email

Answer: A

Explanation:

The best way to update the workflow is to add a parallel action to send a custom email to your CISO. A parallel action allows you to perform multiple actions simultaneously when a workflow is triggered, without affecting the order or outcome of other actions. A sequential action, on the other hand, requires one action to complete before another action can start. By adding a parallel action, you can ensure that both the escalation team and your CISO receive an email notification as soon as possible.
