Pegasystems Pega Certified Business Architect (PCBA) 87V1 Sample Questions (Q65-Q70):

NEW QUESTION # 65

Which two of the following use cases do you implement by using one or more calculated fields? (Choose Two)

- A. An accountant wants to list the largest order for the last month, for each customer account.
- B. A sales representative wants to quote the cost of an insurance policy based on selected coverage options.
- C. A project manager wants to estimate the cost of painting a banquet hall based on labor and materials required.
- D. A certification manager wants to determine the number of exams conducted at each testing facility in the current quarter.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

These two use cases can be implemented by using one or more calculated fields because they involve setting the value of a calculated field based on one or more input fields. For example, the cost of painting a banquet hall can be calculated by multiplying the labor rate, the number of hours, and the area of the hall. The cost of an insurance policy can be calculated by adding the base premium and the selected coverage options. Calculated fields can use functions or custom calculations to express the relationship between fields. Reference: <https://academy.pegacorp.com/topic/calculated-values/v1>

NEW QUESTION # 66

Which two requirements demonstrate the need to configure correspondence? (Choose Two)

- A. Fax a new insurance claim to the auto repair shop.
- B. Phone a customer for additional information about the case.
- C. Assign a new insurance claim to a case worker to process.
- D. Text the customer with status changes in an insurance claim.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

These answers are correct because they demonstrate the need to configure correspondence, which is a way of communicating with external parties through email, fax, letter, or text message. Correspondence can be configured to send information or documents related to a case to customers, stakeholders, or other parties involved in the case.
