- A. the key pair of the certificate holder
- B. secret key of the issuing CA
- C. Telephone number of the department
- D. Distinguished name of subject

Answer: D

Explanation:

The key word is 'In create the certificate..'" Certificates that conform to X.509 contain the following data: Version of X.509 to which the certificate conforms; Serial number (from the certificate creator); Signature algorithm identifier (specifies the technique used by the certificate authority to digitally sign the contents of the certificate); Issuer name (identification of the certificate authority that issues the certificate) Validity period (specifies the dates and times - a starting date and time and an ending date and time - during which the certificate is valid); Subject's name (contains the distinguished name, or DN, of the entity that owns the public key contained in the certificate); Subject's public key (the meat of the certificate - the actual public key of the certificate owner used to setup secure communications) pg 343-344 CISSP Study Guide by Tittel

NEW QUESTION # 753

Which of the following is used to create parity information?

- A. a hamming code
- B. a clustering code
- C. a mirroring code
- D. a striping code

Answer: A

Explanation:

RAID Level 2 :- The parity information is created using a hamming code that detects errors and establishes which part of which drive is in error. Source: KRUTZ, Ronald L. & VINES, Russel D., The CISSP Prep Guide: Mastering the Ten Domains of Computer Security, 2001, John Wiley & Sons, Page 66.

NEW QUESTION # 754

Which of the following exemplifies proper separation of duties?

- A. Programmers are permitted to use the system console.
- B. Operators are not permitted to modify the system time.

- C. Tape operators are permitted to use the system console.
- D. Console operators are permitted to mount tapes and disks.

Answer: B

Explanation:

This is an example of Separation of Duties because operators are prevented from modifying the system time which could lead to fraud. Tasks of this nature should be performed by system administrators.

AIO defines Separation of Duties as a security principle that splits up a critical task among two or more individuals to ensure that one person cannot complete a risky task by himself.

The following answers are incorrect:

Programmers are permitted to use the system console. Is incorrect because programmers should not be permitted to use the system console, this task should be performed by operators. Allowing programmers access to the system console could allow fraud to occur so this is not an example of Separation of Duties..

Console operators are permitted to mount tapes and disks. Is incorrect because operators should be able to mount tapes and disks so this is not an example of Separation of Duties.

Tape operators are permitted to use the system console. Is incorrect because operators should be able to use the system console so this is not an example of Separation of Duties.
