Salesforce Loyalty Management Accredited Professional Sample Questions (Q54-Q59):

NEW QUESTION # 54

A sports clothing and accessories retailer is setting up a new Loyalty program. The company wants an effective way to create urgency in its Loyalty program members to return to purchase and redeem their points within a specified period. The entire points balance expires if a member's last activity, including any purchase or points redemption, reaches 18 months.

What steps should a Loyalty Consultant follow to meet the retailer's requirement when implementing the new Loyalty program?

- A. Set up a Non-Qualifying Points currency, apply the expiration model 'Activity Model'
- B. Set up a Non-Qualifying Points currency and apply the expiration model 'Fixed Model'
- C. Set up a Qualifying Points currency and apply the expiration model 'Fixed Model'
- D. Set up a Qualifying Points currency and apply the expiration model 'Activity Model'

Answer: A

Explanation:

To create urgency for Loyalty program members to return and redeem their points within a specified period, where the entire points balance expires if a member's last activity reaches 18 months, the Loyalty Consultant should:

* Set up a Non-Qualifying Points currency, apply the expiration model 'Activity Model' (C): This setup allows for the expiration of Non-Qualifying Points based on member activity, specifically if there is no purchase or points redemption activity within an 18-month period. The Activity Model is used to track the last activity date and trigger expiration based on this inactivity period.

Setting up a Non-Qualifying Points currency with a 'Fixed Model' expiration (option A), a Qualifying Points currency with either 'Activity Model' (option B) or 'Fixed Model' expiration (option D), would not meet the retailer's requirement for creating urgency based on the last activity.

Salesforce documentation on Loyalty Management would provide guidance on configuring expiration models for loyalty currencies, ensuring that program objectives, such as encouraging regular member engagement, are achieved.

NEW QUESTION # 55

What three facts should the administrator consider when creating and managing member groups?

- A. Vouchers can't be issued to groups.
- B. Promotions can't offered to groups.
- C. Groups are associate with tiers.
- D. Accrual type transactions associated with a group can be canceled.
- E. Qualifying points can't be transferred to a group.

Answer: A,D,E

Explanation:

When creating and managing member groups in Salesforce Loyalty Management, administrators should consider the following key facts:

* Groups are associated with tiers (A): This statement is not necessarily true as groups can be created for various purposes, not just tied to specific tiers. Groups can be used to segment members for targeted promotions, communications, or benefits irrespective of their tier status.

* Accrual type transactions associated with a group can be canceled (B): This is an important consideration as it implies that transactions contributing to a group's accrual points can be adjusted or canceled if necessary, affecting the group's total points and potentially members' benefits.

* Qualifying points can't be transferred to a group (C): This is a critical consideration because it highlights the limitation that individual member's qualifying points cannot be directly transferred into a group's pool of points. This ensures the integrity of qualifying points for tier progression and other individual benefits.

* Vouchers can't be issued to groups (D): This is another important consideration. While individual members within a group can receive vouchers, a voucher cannot be issued at the group level. This ensures that benefits are tailored and distributed to individual members, maintaining personalization in the loyalty program.

* Promotions can't be offered to groups (E): This statement is incorrect. Promotions can indeed be targeted at specific groups, allowing for more tailored marketing efforts and member engagement strategies within the loyalty program.

References to Salesforce documentation on Loyalty Management would provide detailed guidelines on how to effectively create, manage, and leverage member groups within a loyalty program, ensuring that administrators are well-informed of these considerations.

NEW QUESTION # 56

An Administrator must configure a tier point reset for a Loyalty Program to occur once every two years. Which two settings does the Administrator need to consider in this scenario?

- A. The qualifying point reset date, period, and frequency are set on the tier group.
- B. The Currency type field must correspond to qualifying.
- C. The currency type field must correspond to non-qualifying.
- D. The Loyalty tier group field is populated.

Answer: A

Explanation:

For configuring a tier point reset in Salesforce Loyalty Management that occurs once every two years, the administrator needs to consider:

* The qualifying point reset date, period, and frequency are set on the tier group (B): This setting ensures that members' qualifying points are reset according to the specified schedule, in this case, every two years. This reset mechanism is crucial for maintaining the program's competitiveness and encouraging ongoing member engagement.

The option A, "The Loyalty tier group field is populated," is a prerequisite for tier management but not directly related to the reset settings. Options C and D, regarding the Currency type field, are not relevant to the tier point reset settings, as the reset pertains to the accumulation and expiration of qualifying points within the tier structure, not the currency type.

Salesforce Loyalty Management documentation would provide detailed instructions on configuring tier resets, including the impact of different settings on member tiers and how to communicate changes effectively to maintain member satisfaction and engagement.

NEW QUESTION # 57

The Loyalty Administrator for Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) insider program defines tier groups- Status Tier Group with a Fixed model and period of one year.

The three tiers are defined =Silver (base), Golden (next tier), and Platinum (the highest tier) Extend Expiration for this tier group is Qualifying Points Reset Date.

A member joins NTO insider in the Silver tier and, after a year of engagement, gets upgraded to the Gold tier on March 16, 2023. Which date would be the new Expiry date of this member after the tier is upgraded to Gold?

- A. March 31, 2024
- B. December 31, 2023
- C. March 16, 2020.
- D. December 31, 2024

Answer: A

Explanation:

The new expiry date for the member after being upgraded to the Gold tier would be March 31, 2024. In Salesforce Loyalty Management, when a member is upgraded to a new tier, the expiry date is set based on the tier's fixed model and period. Since the member was upgraded on March 16, 2023, and the period is one year, the new expiry date aligns with the end of the month following the one-year anniversary of the upgrade, which is March 31, 2024.

NEW QUESTION # 58

A company has decided to use Loyalty Management for customer retention, which will lead to increased revenue. Based on market research, the company decided to make the points available for its Loyalty Program Members after the return period of 14 days is over.

What is the best solution to meet the company's business requirements?

- A. Enable Pending Points
- B. Enable Escrow Points
- C. Enable Deferred Points

- D. Install App Exchange

Answer: C

Explanation:

To meet the company's business requirements of making points available for Loyalty Program Members after a return period of 14 days, the best solution is to Enable Deferred Points (C). Deferred points are a feature in Salesforce Loyalty Management that allows points to be earned but not immediately available for redemption, typically used to account for return periods or other conditional delays. By enabling deferred points, the company can ensure that points are only made available after the specified return period has passed, aligning with their business strategy and reducing the risk of point redemption for returned products.
