NEW QUESTION # 60

You are working on a project that uses out-of-the-box OData endpoints and custom web services.

HTTP calls must be used to retrieve data and perform operations with minimal development effort.

All integration calls must be automated so that no user interaction is required once they are configured.

The following operations must be created:

- * Obtain a list of customers from a customer group.
- * Post a sales order invoice.
- * Obtain a vendor balance.

You need to design the integrations.

Which integration endpoint should you use for each requirement? To answer, move the appropriate integration endpoints to the correct requirements. You may use each integration endpoint once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to move the split bar between panes or scroll to view content. NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.
