How does the replicator role function in cisco SD-WAN?

- A. WAN Edge devices advertise the rendezvous point to all receivers through the overlay network.
- B. WAN Edge devices advertise the rendezvous point to all the receivers through the underlay network.
- C. vSmart Controllers advertise the rendezvous point to all the receivers through the overlay network.
- D. vSmart Controllers advertise the rendezvous point to all the receivers through the underlay network.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Replicators

For efficient use of WAN bandwidth, strategic Cisco SD-WAN routers can be deployed and configured as replicators throughout the overlay network. Replicators mitigate the requirement for a Cisco SD-WAN router with local sources of the PIM-RP to replicate a multicast stream once for each receiver. As discussed above, replicators advertise themselves, using OMP multicast-autodiscover routes, to the Cisco vSmart Controllers in the overlay network. The controllers then forward the replicator location information to the PIM-enabled Cisco IOS XE SD-WAN routers that are in the same VPN as the replicator.
