ISQI IREB Certified Professional for Requirements Engineering. Foundation Level Sample Questions (Q147-Q152):

NEW QUESTION # 147

Which of the following are principles of Requirements Engineering? (Select 2 answers.)

- A. Systems should be isolated from proper understanding.
- B. Non-validated requirements are worthless.
- C. Requirements should be viewed as means to an end, not the end in itself.
- D. Changing requirements are the exception, not the normal case.
- E. Requirements Engineering is about satisfying only users' needs.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

IREB defines a set of RE principles. Principle 1 states that requirements are a means to an end (such as reduced risk and successful systems), not an end in themselves; they support achieving project and business goals. Principle 6 states that non-validated requirements are worthless because unvalidated statements may be incorrect, incomplete, inconsistent or misaligned with stakeholder needs. Requirements normally change over time; change is expected, not exceptional. Systems cannot be understood in isolation from their environment, and RE must consider all relevant stakeholders, not only users. Hence options A and D reflect official principles; the others contradict them.

NEW QUESTION # 148

A number of factors influence how the RE process should be configured. Which of the following sentences are NOT true?

- A. When there is a high degree of trust between the customer and the supplier, more formal specifications should be used.
- B. The stronger the shared understanding, the more complex and rigorous the RE process should be.
- C. When schedules and budgets are constrained, a lightweight RE process is often adopted.
- D. The more complex the system to be implemented is, the more formal and rigorous the RE process should be.
- E. The less experienced the Requirements Engineers are, the less sophisticated the RE process should be.

Answer: A,B

NEW QUESTION # 149

Requirements elicitation: Your company has received a customer contract to develop a system for the scheduling of the customer's delivery vans.

It is your task to identify the requirements for this scheduling system. You have arranged appointments for interviews with three key members of the customer's staff, and are now preparing interview questions.

Which of the questions below are appropriate interview questions for the requirements elicitation? (2 Points)

- A. What data quantities / data rates are to be processed?
- B. What are the most important technical terms for the application and how are they defined?
- C. When is the installation of the completed system to be started?
- D. If the delivery deadline is not met, is a contract penalty to be paid?

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 150

Which of the following perspectives is the most important when selecting a tool to support the RE process?

- A. Process perspective
- B. User perspective
- C. All the other options are wrong
- D. Project perspective

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 151

All the following sentences are applicable to version control on requirements, EXCEPT:

- A. Version numbers are typically composed of at least 2 components: version and increment.
- B. Version numbers always start with "one".
- C. Version control is useful for following the evolving history of a requirement.
- D. Each new version requires a clear description of what was changed in relation to the last version.

Answer: B
