Sample Questions (Q10-Q15):

NEW QUESTION # 10

In which activity can you re-evaluate errors for workqueues?

- A. Error Log Report
- B. Interface Error Workqueue Maintenance
- C. Workqueue List
- D. Message Search

Answer: B

Explanation:

If workqueue rules are updated or if errors need to be reassessed against existing rules, the Interface Error Workqueue Maintenance activity is used. This utility allows the system to sweep through existing errors and re-apply logic to ensure they are appearing in (or have been removed from) the correct workqueues.

NEW QUESTION # 11

Selecting "Suppress" in the Error Resolution Planner will automatically suppress the related error code for the selected interface.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Error Resolution Planner is a tool for triaging and planning, not for final configuration. Selecting "Suppress" within the planner indicates an intention or a decision that the error should be suppressed, but the actual administrative suppression must still be configured in the Error Code or Interface records to take effect.

NEW QUESTION # 12

Which documents can be shared with other software vendors interested in integrating with Epic interfaces?

- A. Interface Reference Guides in Hyperspace
- B. Interface Reference Guides in Galaxy
- C. Technical Specifications on open.epic.com
- D. EDI101 Training Companion

Answer: C

Explanation:

Epic maintains a public-facing portal (open.epic.com) specifically for third-party vendors and developers.

While Interface Reference Guides (IRGs) in Hyperspace or Galaxy contain proprietary information intended for Epic customers, the Technical Specifications on open.epic.com are designed to be shared to facilitate interoperability and standards-based integration.

NEW QUESTION # 13

It is possible to start the Communications Daemons for both incoming and outgoing interfaces at the same time.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:

Bridges management tools allow administrators to select multiple interfaces—regardless of whether they are sending data (outgoing) or receiving data (incoming)—and issue a "Start" command to their respective Communications Daemons simultaneously. This facilitates efficient management during system startups or after maintenance.

NEW QUESTION # 14

The Background Monitor Definition activity allows you to configure an interface to automatically restart after a system downtime, contingent on the status of a different interface.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Background Monitor Definition in Bridges is used to manage interface health and automation. It allows administrators to set up dependencies, meaning an interface can be configured to start or restart only if a specific prerequisite interface is already running. This is particularly useful for ensuring that foundational interfaces (like those handling patient identity) are active before clinical data interfaces begin processing.
