SAP Certified Associate - Security Administrator Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48
When performing a comparison from the imparting role, what happens to organizational level field values in the derived role? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Data for organizational levels is always transferred when authorization data for the derived role is modified.
- B. Data for organizational levels that have already been maintained in the derived role is NOT overwritten.
- C. Data for organizational levels that have already been maintained in the derived role is overwritten.
- D. Data for organizational levels is transferred only when authorization data for the derived role is first modified.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:
In SAP S/4HANA, when performing a comparison from an imparting (parent) role to a derived role, organizational level field values are handled with specific rules to maintain consistency and flexibility. Data for organizational levels that have already been maintained in the derived role is not overwritten, preserving any custom configurations made specifically for the derived role. This ensures that existing organizational assignments, such as company codes or plants, remain intact unless explicitly changed. Additionally, data for organizational levels is transferred from the imparting role to the derived role only when the authorization data for the derived role is first modified. This conditional transfer prevents unnecessary updates to organizational values until changes are initiated, allowing administrators to control when inherited values are applied. These mechanisms support efficient role maintenance while protecting customized settings in derived roles, ensuring alignment with business requirements and security policies.

NEW QUESTION # 49
For users with system administration authorization, which additional functions are provided by the SAP Easy Access menu? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Creating roles

NEW QUESTION # 50
Which SU01 user types are NOT enabled for interaction? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Communications Data
- B. Service
- C. Dialog
- D. System

Answer: A,D

Explanation:
In SAP systems, SU01 user types define the purpose and interaction capabilities of user accounts. The System user type is not enabled for interactive use, as it is designed for background processes, such as batch jobs or system operations, and does not support direct logon via the SAP GUI. Similarly, the Communications Data user type (often referred to as Communication User) is intended for machine-to-machine interactions, such as API calls or system integrations, and is not configured for interactive logon by human users. In contrast, Dialog users are explicitly designed for interactive access, allowing users to log on and perform tasks via the SAP GUI. Service users, while restricted, can support limited interactive access in specific scenarios, such as anonymous web services. These distinctions ensure that non-interactive processes are securely managed without exposing unnecessary access points.
