Microsoft Power BI Data Analyst Sample Questions (Q365-Q370):

NEW QUESTION # 365
Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution.
After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen.
You are modeling data by using Microsoft Power Bl. Part of the data model is a large Microsoft SQL Server table named Order that has more than 100 million records.
During the development process, you need to import a sample of the data from the Order table.
Solution: You add a report-level filter that filters based on the order date.
Does this meet the goal?

- A. Yes
- B. No

Answer: B

Explanation:
The filter is applied after the data is imported.
Instead add a WHERE clause to the SQL statement.

NEW QUESTION # 366
You are creating a line chart in a Power Bl report as shown in the following exhibit.
Use the drop-down menus to select the answer choice that completes each statement based on the information presented in the graphic.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

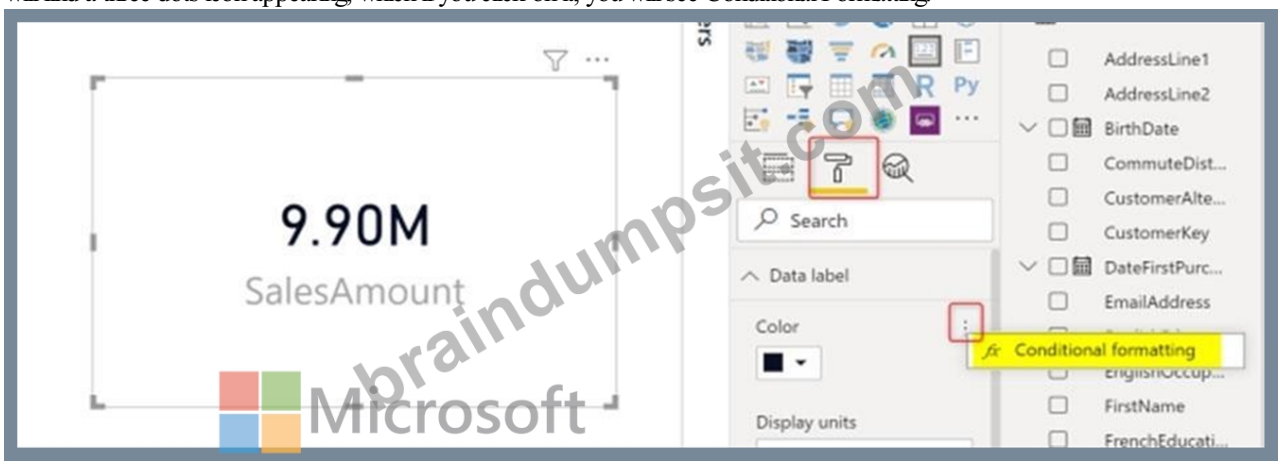
NEW QUESTION # 367
You have a report that includes a card visualization.
You need to apply the following conditional formatting to the card while minimizing design effort.
For values that are greater than or equal to 100, the font of the data label must be dark red.
For values that are less than 100, the font of the data label must be dark gray.
Which type of format should you use?

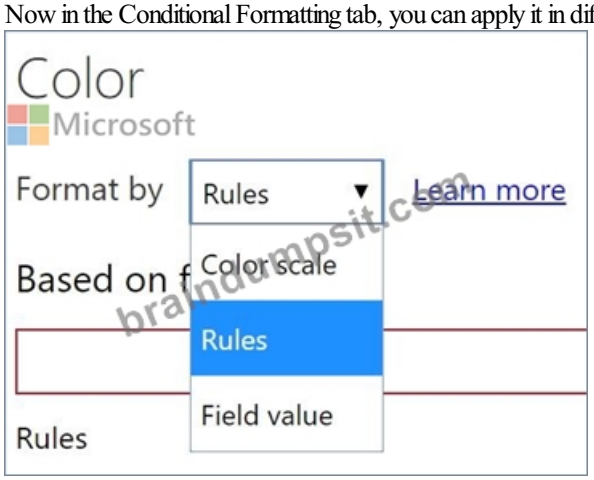
- A. Rules
- B. Color scale
- C. Field value

Answer: A

Explanation:
Finding the conditional formatting in the card visual is a bit tricky. There is no separate option for that. You need to go to the Format tab of the visual, and then expand the Data Label. The right beside the Data Label's colour you need to hover your mouse, and you will find a three dots icon appearing, which if you click on it, you will see Conditional Formatting.



Now in the Conditional Formatting tab, you can apply it in different methods. for example, you can choose Rules, and then



The Rules mode will give you the ability to put custom roles as below;
