CompTIA Advanced Security Practitioner (CASP+) Exam Sample Questions (Q595-Q600):

NEW QUESTION # 595

A security analyst notices a number of SIEM events that show the following activity:

□ Which of the following response actions should the analyst take FIRST?

- A. Disable powershell.exe on all Microsoft Windows endpoints.
- B. Disable local administrator privileges on the endpoints.
- C. Restart Microsoft Windows Defender.
- D. Configure the forward proxy to block 40.90.23.154.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The SIEM events show that powershell.exe was executed on multiple endpoints with an outbound connection to 40.90.23.154, which is an IP address associated with malicious activity. This could indicate a malware infection or a command-and-control channel. The best response action is to configure the forward proxy to block 40.90.23.154, which would prevent further communication with the malicious IP address. Disabling powershell.exe on all endpoints may not be feasible or effective, as it could affect legitimate operations and not remove the malware. Restarting Microsoft Windows Defender may not detect or stop the malware, as it could have bypassed or disabled it. Disabling local administrator privileges on the endpoints may not prevent the malware from running or communicating, as it could have escalated privileges or used other methods.

NEW QUESTION # 596

A security administrator is performing an audit of a local network used by company guests and executes a series of commands that generates the following output:

□ Which of the following actions should the security administrator take to BEST mitigate the issue that transpires from the above information?

- A. Enforce static ARP mappings using GPO
- B. Implement switchport security
- C. Implement 802.1X
- D. Enable unicast RPF

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 597

A security analyst is investigating a series of suspicious emails by employees to the security team. The emails appear to come from a current business partner and do not contain images or URLs. No images or URLs were stripped from the message by the security tools the company uses instead, the emails only include the following in plain text.

□ Which of the following should the security analyst perform?

- A. Pull the devices of the affected employees from the network in case they are infected with a zero-day virus.
- B. Block the IP address for the business partner at the perimeter firewall.
- C. Configure the email gateway to automatically quarantine all messages originating from the business partner.
- D. Contact the security department at the business partner and alert them to the email event.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The best option for the security analyst to perform is to contact the security department at the business partner and alert them to the email event. The email appears to be a phishing attempt that tries to trick the employees into revealing their login credentials by impersonating a legitimate sender. The security department at the business partner should be notified so they can investigate the source and scope of the attack and take appropriate actions to protect their systems and users. NEW QUESTION # 598

Due to adverse events, a medium-sized corporation suffered a major operational disruption that caused its servers to crash and experience a major power outage. Which of the following should be created to prevent this type of issue in the future?

- A. SLA
- B. BCP
- C. RTO
- D. BCM
- E. BIA

Answer: B

Explanation:

BCP refers to the plan and processes used during a response to a disruptive event.

NEW QUESTION # 599

An organization needs to classify its systems and data in accordance with external requirements. Which of the following roles is best qualified to perform this task?

- A. Data processor
- B. Data owner
- C. Data custodian
- D. Data steward
- E. Systems administrator

Answer: B

Explanation:

The data owner is best qualified to classify systems and data in accordance with external requirements. The data owner is responsible for determining how data should be classified based on its sensitivity, value, and regulatory requirements. They have the authority to decide on classification levels such as public, confidential, or secret, and ensure compliance with external standards. Other roles, like data custodians or processors, support the implementation of data management, but the data owner has the final responsibility for classification. CASP+ highlights the role of data owners in determining data classification and ensuring compliance with external requirements.
