Fortinet FCP - FortiAnalyzer 7.4 Administrator Sample Questions (Q145-Q150):

NEW QUESTION # 145

What are analytics logs on FortiAnalyzer?

- A. Logs that are compressed and saved to a log file with the .gz extension.
- B. Logs that are rolled over when the log file reaches a specific size.
- C. Logs that are saved in the active log file with the .log extension.
- D. Logs that are indexed and stored in the SQL database.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Analytics logs on FortiAnalyzer are those that are indexed and stored in the SQL database.

These logs are considered online and provide real-time access for analysis and reporting.

NEW QUESTION # 146

What is required to authorize a FortiGate on FortiAnalyzer using Fabric authorization?

- A. The FortiGate serial number
- B. A FortiGate ADOM
- C. A pre-shared key
- D. Valid FortiAnalyzer credentials

Answer: D

Explanation:

FortiAnalyzer_7.0_Study_Guide-Online.pdf page 93: The fourth method uses the Fortinet Security Fabric authorization process.

This method requires that both FortiGate and FortiAnalyzer are running version 7.0.1 or higher. It is also required that the FortiGate administrator has valid credentials to log in on FortiAnalyzer and complete the registration.

NEW QUESTION # 147

Which two statements are true regarding the log synchronization states for HA on FortiAnalyzer?

(Choose two.)

- A. When Log Data Sync is turned on, the backup device reboots and then rebuilds the log database with the synchronized logs.
- B. Log Data Sync provides real-time log synchronization to all backup devices.
- C. With Initial Logs Sync, when you add a unit to an HA cluster, the primary device synchronizes its logs with the backup device.
- D. By default, Log Data Sync is disabled on all backup devices.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Log Data Sync provides real-time log synchronization to all backup devices. - Log Data Sync in FortiAnalyzer HA setups is designed to ensure that all backup devices in the cluster are kept up-to-date with real-time log data from the primary device. This synchronization helps maintain log integrity and availability even in the event of a primary device failure.

With Initial Logs Sync, when you add a unit to an HA cluster, the primary device synchronizes its logs with the backup device. -

When a new unit is added to an HA cluster, Initial Logs Sync is crucial to ensure that the new unit starts with a complete set of logs. This process involves the primary device synchronizing its existing logs to the newly added backup unit, which ensures consistency across the cluster.

NEW QUESTION # 148

You are trying to initiate an authorization request from FortiGate to FortiAnalyzer, but the Security Fabric window does not open when you click Authorize.

Which two reasons can cause this to happen? (Choose two.)

- A. The management computer does not have connectivity to the authorization IP address and port combination.
- B. The fabric authorization settings on FortiAnalyzer are misconfigured.
- C. A pre-shared key needs to be established on both sides.
- D. The Security Fabric root is unauthorized and needs to be added as a trusted host.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

The management computer does not have connectivity to the authorization IP address and port combination.

If there is no network connectivity between the management computer and the FortiAnalyzer on the specific IP address and port used for authorization, the Security Fabric window will not open.

The fabric authorization settings on FortiAnalyzer are misconfigured.

If the fabric authorization settings on FortiAnalyzer are not properly configured, FortiGate will not be able to initiate the authorization request, preventing the Security Fabric window from opening.

The other options are not applicable because:

Pre-shared keys are not required for initial authorization between FortiGate and FortiAnalyzer; they are typically used for establishing VPN tunnels.

The Security Fabric root does not need to be added as a trusted host to open the authorization window. Trusted hosts are more relevant to FortiGate's access control for management interfaces.

NEW QUESTION # 149

By default, what happens when a log file reaches its maximum file size?

- A. FortiAnalyzer rolls the active log by renaming the file.
- B. FortiAnalyzer overwrites the log files.
- C. FortiAnalyzer forwards logs to syslog.
- D. FortiAnalyzer stops logging.

Answer: A
