NEW QUESTION # 31

What is the most likely cause of an Objects bucket that is shared with multiple users to approach its assigned capacity limit?

- A. Objects store capacity includes snapshots.
- B. Malware infection is causing the usage.

- C. Some multi-part operations are pending.
- D. Other users have written to the bucket.

Answer: D

Explanation:

According to Nutanix Objects User Guide¹, an object store is a logical grouping of buckets that share a common namespace and configuration settings. A bucket is a container for objects that can be accessed by authorized applications and users using S3-compatible APIs.

Objects Storage provides a simple and scalable S3 compatible storage tier on top of your Nutanix AOS platform². There is no limit on objects per bucket³, but there is a limit on the total capacity of an object store that can be configured during its creation or modified later⁴.

Therefore, if an object store is shared with multiple users, it is possible that other users have written to the buckets in the object store and consumed its assigned capacity limit.
