NEW QUESTION # 39

You created a scheduled integration in Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) that uses scheduled parameters named startDate and endDate to determine the date range for a data synchronization process. The default values for these parameters are set to the previous day for startDate and the current day for endDate. However, you now want to schedule a run of the instance with a different start date.

What should you do?

- A. Override the parameter value when scheduling the integration instance.
- B. Modify the parameter value in the instance's integration properties and restart the instance.
- C. Create a new version of the integration by modifying the parameter value, and then deploy the new scheduled integration version.
- D. Modify the parameter value in the integration code and redeploy the integration.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Override the parameter values when scheduling the instance. This approach is efficient and flexible, allowing you to adjust the schedule parameters without modifying the integration.
