NEW QUESTION # 30

Oracle Fusion Analytics Warehouse (FAW) is built on Oracle Analytics Cloud (OAC). As a FAW Service Administrator, where do you manage the FAW application?

- A. You have two consoles: the FAW console and an OAC console. The OAC console has limited functionality as compared to the standalone OAC platform service.
- B. You have two consoles: the FAW console and an OAC console. The OAC console is similar in functionality to the standalone OAC platform service.
- C. You have only one console to manage and administer FAW, the FAW console.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

As a FAW Service Administrator, you have access to two consoles: the FAW console and an OAC console.

The FAW console is used to manage the FAW service, such as setting up data sources, loading data, monitoring data pipelines, and configuring users and roles. The OAC console is used to access the prebuilt dashboards and reports, as well as create and customize your own analytics content. However, the OAC console has limited functionality as compared to the standalone OAC platform service, such as restricted access to data sources, data flows, and data sets.

NEW QUESTION # 31

During the creation of the FAW instance, you have to provide the Fusion Application connection details and authentication information.

Which method of authentication is recommended by Oracle?

- A. Multi-factor authentication
- B. JSON Web Token
- C. Password-based

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

JSON Web Token (JWT) is the recommended method of authentication by Oracle for creating the FAW instance. JWT is a secure and self-contained way of transmitting information between parties as a JSON object. It is used to assert some number of claims

NEW QUESTION # 32

You are in the process of implementing complex data security.

How would you secure your Fact table using data filters from different dimensions?

- A. Currently, this scenario is not supported.
- B. Create multi-table data sets in OAC and create a custom report.
- C. Use functional groups to combine the data filters using the OR and AND operators.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

The way that you would secure your Fact table using data filters from different dimensions is to use functional groups to combine the data filters using the OR and AND operators. Functional groups are logical groups of dimensions that can be used to apply data filters on a Fact table. You can use functional groups to specify complex filter criteria that involve multiple dimensions and operators³. You do not need to create multi-table data sets in OAC or accept that this scenario is not supported.

What is the typical use case of the Promote Objects feature?

- A. To replicate one instance to another
- B. To move your customization from one environment to another, such as from development to production to production
- C. To check the validity of your customization

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

The typical use case of the Promote Objects feature is to move your customization from one environment to another, such as from development to production. The Promote Objects feature allows you to export and import your customizations of the semantic model, security configurations, and KPIs between different instances of FAW⁴. The Promote Objects feature is not used to check the validity of your customization or to replicate one instance to another.

NEW QUESTION # 34

You have created several Data Augmentations.

What types of data refreshes are available for Data Augmentation?

- A. Data Augmentations follow the incremental refresh frequency and can also be refreshed ad hoc.
- B. If refresh is required, you need to update the ADW tables related to Data Augmentation.
- C. Only ad hoc refresh is available for Data Augmentation.

Answer: A

Explanation:
