This stage ensures that the OGL deployment is stable and fully functional, ready to deliver value to the organization. |
| Topic 2 | <ul style="list-style-type: none">Introduction to OGL Content: OGL plays a crucial role in enabling organizations to efficiently manage learning content, ensuring seamless deployment and accessibility. It provides a structured framework for organizing, delivering, and tracking learning materials to enhance workforce skills. The OGL Deployment approach outlines a structured implementation process that organizations follow to integrate OGL within their systems. Organizations nest within this deployment approach by aligning their training objectives, resources, and processes with OGL's capabilities, ensuring a smooth adoption and effective utilization of learning content. |
| Topic 3 | <ul style="list-style-type: none">Project Phase 1: Focus: This phase involves defining the OGL project plan, including governance structures that oversee implementation and ensure alignment with business objectives. Oracle Guided Learning Project Management Foundations Associate - Rel 1 Sample Questions (Q54-Q59):

NEW QUESTION # 54

When creating custom content, how will you capture requirements and communicate them?

- A. By providing an outline with text and screenshots
- B. By importing guides from the Use Case library
- C. By sending a templated email to all end users
- D. By transmitting instructions through an Instant Messenger application

Answer: A

Explanation:

Capturing and communicating requirements for custom content in OGL involves creating a detailed outline with text and screenshots. This method ensures clarity and specificity, allowing stakeholders to visualize and validate the content. Templated emails (option A) lack detail, importing Use Case guides (option B) is a starting point but not requirement capture, and Instant Messenger (option C) is informal and insufficient. The outline approach aligns with OGL best practices for documentation.

NEW QUESTION # 55

Which activity might be included in an effective Hypercare strategy?

- A. Do not designate change champions.
- B. Hide resources that might help end users.
- C. Provide a clear base of operations for escalations.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Hypercare is the post-go-live support phase in OGL projects, aimed at stabilizing the system and addressing user issues swiftly. Providing a clear base of operations for escalations (option B) establishes a structured process for handling problems, ensuring support teams can respond effectively—a hallmark of an effective Hypercare strategy. Hiding resources (option A) contradicts support goals, and not designating change champions (option C) weakens advocacy and adoption, both being poor practices. Option B's focus on escalation clarity enhances user confidence and system reliability, making it the strategic choice for Hypercare success.

NEW QUESTION # 56

Which resources are responsible for configuring Fusion or other application environments, managing Fusion user security roles, and ensuring proper access and data?

- A. Fusion Configuration and Data Management Leads
- B. IT Security and Network Administration Leads
- C. OGL Administrators
- D. OGL Content Developers

Answer: A

Explanation:

Fusion Configuration and Data Management Leads are responsible for configuring Fusion or other application environments, managing security roles, and ensuring access and data integrity (option C). OGL Content Developers (option A) focus on content creation, OGL Administrators (option B) manage the OGL console, and IT Security/Network Leads (option D) handle broader infrastructure, not Fusion-specific tasks. These Leads possess the technical expertise to align Fusion configurations with OGL requirements, ensuring seamless integration and secure data handling—a critical role distinct from OGL-specific responsibilities.

NEW QUESTION # 57

For which type of documentation would you need a training needs analysis?

- A. Learning and Development
- B. Cloud Application Implementation
- C. Organizational Impact
- D. Change Management

Answer: A

Explanation:

A training needs analysis identifies skill gaps and training requirements, making it essential for Learning and Development documentation. Other options involve different focuses (e.g., change impact or implementation planning).

NEW QUESTION # 58

Which of the following is an example of licensed OGL content?

- A. Machine translations
- B. Fusion role mapping
- C. Process guides
- D. Display groups

- E. Base guides

Answer: C

Explanation:

Process Guides (option B) are a prime example of licensed OGL content, provided as prebuilt, Oracle-authored resources within the Oracle Content library. Base Guides (option C) are also licensed but less specific as a standalone answer here, while machine translations (option A), display groups (option D), and Fusion role mapping (option E) are either features or configurations, not content types. Process Guides offer standardized process documentation, reflecting Oracle's licensed offerings to support implementations, making them a clear fit.
