- E. Automatic data file extension (AUTOEXTEND).

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

NEW QUESTION # 81

- D. Resumable space allocation may be enabled for some sessions and not others.
- E. A user's session may be suspended and resumed multiple times.
- F. Resumable space allocation is only possible with locally managed tablespaces.

Answer: C,D,E

Explanation:

- B .True. Multiple suspensions can occur in one session.
- C .False. Works with dictionary-managed tablespaces too.
- D .False. Timeout is session-specific.
- E .True. Privilege doesn't prevent suspension; quota limits do.
- F .False. Triggers execute but can't suspend themselves.

- C .False. DBA can revoke the full privilege, not just ADMIN OPTION.
- D .False. USR1 can't revoke from USR3 directly; only the grantor (USR2) can.
- E .True. WITH ADMIN OPTION breaks the revoke chain from USR1 onward.

NEW QUESTION # 83

Which three statements are true about the Oracle Database server during and immediately after SHUTDOWN TRANSACTIONAL?

- A. Uncommitted transactions are allowed to continue to the next COMMIT.
- B. New connection requests made to the database instance are refused.

- E. Instance recovery occurs automatically during the shutdown.

Answer: A,B,D

- E .True. Active transactions can commit before disconnection.

NEW QUESTION # 84

Which three statements are true about roles?

- A. Roles may be granted to other roles.
- B. The SET ROLE statement can disable one or more roles for a session.
- C. Roles must be password protected.
- D. All roles granted to a user are set on default when the user logs in.
- E. The SET ROLE statement can enable one or more roles for a session.
- F. Object privileges may not be granted to roles.

Answer: A,B,E

Explanation:

Roles in Oracle manage privileges efficiently. Let's dive into each option:

A . Roles must be password protected.

False. Roles can be password-protected (e.g., CREATE ROLE mgr IDENTIFIED BY secret), but it's optional. Non-protected roles (default) are enabled automatically if granted, requiring no password.

Mechanics:Password-protected roles need SET ROLE mgr IDENTIFIED BY secret, enhancing security for sensitive privileges.

B . Roles may be granted to other roles.

True. Roles can form hierarchies (e.g., GRANT clerk TO mgr), allowing nested privilege management.

Mechanics:A user with mgr inherits clerk privileges indirectly. Revoking clerk from mgr cascades appropriately.

Practical Use:Simplifies complex privilege structures in large organizations.

C . The SET ROLE statement can enable one or more roles for a session.

True. SET ROLE role1, role2; activates specified roles for the session, assuming they're granted and not password-protected (or password is provided).

Mechanics:Enabled roles grant their privileges immediately within the session scope.

D . Object privileges may not be granted to roles.

False. Object privileges (e.g., GRANT SELECT ON emp TO clerk) are a primary use of roles, making this statement incorrect.

Why Incorrect:Roles are designed for this purpose, contradicting the option.

E . All roles granted to a user are set on default when the user logs in.

False. Only roles marked as DEFAULT ROLE (via ALTER USER ... DEFAULT ROLE role1) are enabled at login. Non-default roles require SET ROLE.

Mechanics:Check via SELECT * FROM DBA_ROLE_PRIVS WHERE DEFAULT_ROLE='YES'.

F . The SET ROLE statement can disable one or more roles for a session.

True. SET ROLE NONE disables all roles, or SET ROLE role1 implicitly disables others not listed, providing granular control.

Practical Use: Useful for testing or restricting privileges temporarily.
