NEW QUESTION # 40

As part of an organization's IT security compliance requirement, NSX Manager must be configured for 2FA (two-factor authentication).

What should an NSX administrator have ready before the integration can be configured?

- A. Active Directory LDAP integration with OAuth Client added
- B. VMware Identity Manager with NSX added as a Web Application
- C. VMware Identity Manager with an OAuth Client added
- D. Active Directory LDAP integration with ADFS

Answer: B

Explanation:

To enable two-factor authentication (2FA) for NSX Manager, VMware Identity Manager must be configured and integrated with NSX. The NSX Manager should be added as a web application in VMware Identity Manager, which will allow 2FA to be applied during the authentication process.

VMware Identity Manager supports 2FA methods, including integration with external identity providers, and it can manage access to NSX with additional security layers.

NEW QUESTION # 42

An NSX administrator would like to create an L2 segment with the following requirements:

- * L2 domain should not exist on the physical switches.
- * East/West communication must be maximized as much as possible.

Which type of segment must the administrator choose?

- A. VLAN
- B. Bridge
- C. Hybrid
- D. Overlay

Answer: D

Explanation:

An overlay segment is a layer 2 broadcast domain that is implemented as a logical construct in the NSX- T Data Center software. Overlay segments do not require any configuration on the physical switches, and they allow for optimal east/west communication between workloads on different ESXi hosts. Overlay segments use the Geneve protocol to encapsulate and decapsulate traffic between the hosts. Overlay segments are created and managed by the NSX Manager.
