ISACA COBIT 2019 Foundation Sample Questions (Q50-Q55):

NEW QUESTION # 50
Which of the following alignment goals is MOST likely to be associated with the metric "percent of l&T services with defined operational costs and expected benefits?

- A. Agility to turn business requirements into operational solutions
- B. Delivery of l&T services in line with business requirements
- C. Quality of technology-related financial information

Answer: B

Explanation:
The alignment goal titled "Delivery of IT services in line with business requirements" is most likely to be associated with the metric "percent of IT services with defined operational costs and expected benefits". This metric measures the extent to which IT services are aligned with business needs and expectations, and deliver value for money. The alignment goal is one of the 17 enterprise goals defined in COBIT 2019, which describe the outcomes that an enterprise wants to achieve from its use of information and technology. The alignment goal is based on the COBIT 2019 Framework4, page 36. References: 4: COBIT 2019 Framework | Digital | English

NEW QUESTION # 51

A consultant tasked with facilitating an enterprise's COBIT implementation has met with the CEO and identified enterprise goals based on mission and vision. Which of the following roles is BEST suited to meet with the consultant to identify alignment goals?

- A. Chief information officer
- B. Chief risk officer
- C. Chief financial officer

Answer: A

Explanation:
The chief information officer (CIO) is the best suited role to meet with the consultant to identify alignment goals. The CIO is the senior executive responsible for leading, directing, and managing the information and technology function of the enterprise. The CIO has a strategic role in aligning I&T with business requirements, ensuring I&T performance, managing I&T risks, fostering innovation, etc. The CIO has a deep understanding of both business and I&T domains, as well as their interdependencies. The CIO can collaborate with the consultant to identify alignment goals that reflect how I&T can support the enterprise goals.1 References: COBIT 2019 Framework: Introduction and Methodology, [COBIT 2019 Framework: Roles, Responsibilities & RACI Charts]

NEW QUESTION # 54

Who is responsible for performing a stakeholder satisfaction survey and gathering feedback on lessons learned from the implementation of an EGIT program plan?

- A. The risk and compliance function and IT audit
- B. Business executives and the l&I governance board
- C. IT managers and IT process owners
- D. The CIO and the program steering committee

Answer: D

Explanation:
The CIO and the program steering committee are responsible for performing a stakeholder satisfaction survey and gathering feedback on lessons learned from the implementation of an EGIT program plan. According to the COBIT 2019 Implementation Guide, the CIO is the executive sponsor of the EGIT program, who provides strategic direction, leadership, and oversight for the program. The program steering committee is a group of senior stakeholders who support the CIO in governing and monitoring the program. One of their responsibilities is to conduct regular reviews of the program performance and outcomes, including stakeholder satisfaction and lessons learned. These reviews help to evaluate the effectiveness and efficiency of the EGIT program plan and identify areas for improvement.
