CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 1 Sample Questions (Q635-Q640):

NEW QUESTION # 635

An employee cannot connect to the wireless network at the office but can connect to a personal wireless network when at home. The technician verifies the wireless network name is correct, and the signal strength appears to be strong. Which of the following is the best action for the technician to take to resolve the issue?

- A. Check the wireless router settings.

- B. Update the wireless driver.
- C. Disable the Windows firewall.
- D. Install the current 802.1X certificate.

Answer: D

Explanation:

802.1X is a network authentication protocol commonly used in enterprise environments. If the user cannot connect to the office wireless network but can connect at home, the issue is likely related to the 802.1X certificate required for authentication. Installing or updating the certificate will resolve the issue.

Why Not B (Check the wireless router settings): If other users can connect to the network, this step is unnecessary.

Why Not C (Update the wireless driver): Driver updates might resolve connectivity issues but are unrelated to 802.1X certificate authentication.

Why Not D (Disable the Windows firewall): The firewall does not affect 802.1X authentication.

CompTIA A+ Exam Reference: Core 1 (220-1101), Section 2.6, wireless network authentication.

NEW QUESTION # 636

Which of the following DNS records is used to point to a mail server?

- A. A
- B. TXT
- C. MX
- D. AAA

Answer: C

Explanation:

An MX (Mail Exchange) record in DNS specifies the mail server responsible for accepting email messages on behalf of a domain. It is a vital component of the email delivery process, directing email to the correct server based on the domain part of the email address. Without properly configured MX records, a domain's email system cannot function correctly.

NEW QUESTION # 637

A user is unable to access the internet on a PC. A technician examines the PC and runs the following commands:

ipconfig /all ping 8.8.8.8
ping.comptia.org

Which of the following steps in the troubleshooting process does this series of commands represent?

- A. Verify full system functionality.
- B. Establish a theory.
- C. Identify the problem
- D. Establish a plan of action.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 638

A user reports that a printer is leaving streaks on printed pages. The paper type and the toner have been replaced. Which of the following should the technician check NEXT to resolve the issue?

- A. Paper tray
- B. System board
- C. Fuser
- D. Memory

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

This is because the fuser is the part of the printer that heats and melts the toner onto the paper. If the fuser is defective or dirty, it can cause streaks or smudges on printed pages. The system board and the memory are not related to the quality of the print output. The paper tray may cause paper jams or misfeeds, but not streaks on the paper.

NEW QUESTION # 639

A help desk technician receives a ticket regarding a non-functioning printer. The ticket states the printer is no longer producing legible prints, and everything that prints appears as symbols. Which of the following is the most likely cause of this issue?

- A. Fuser
- B. Malware
- C. Driver
- D. Access control list

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

A driver is a software component that enables the communication between the operating system and a hardware device, such as a printer. If the driver is corrupted, outdated, or incompatible, the printer may not function properly and produce illegible prints or symbols. The driver can be reinstalled or updated to fix the issue. The fuser, the access control list, and the malware are not related to this issue.
