Juniper Enterprise Routing and Switching, Specialist (JNCIS-ENT) Sample Questions (Q98-Q103):

NEW QUESTION # 98

Which mechanism is used to share routes between routing tables?

- A. routing instances
- B. forwarding instances
- C. RIB groups
- D. filter-based forwarding

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 99

Click the Exhibit button.

R1 has a BGP session with a router that has a peer autonomous system number of 64501. It is exchanging routes, and is advertising those routes to IBGP peers. The downstream IBGP peers, however, cannot pass traffic to the advertised networks.

Referring to the exhibit, which configuration change must occur to solve this problem?

- A. The BGP group ext-64501 must include the export next-hop-self policy.
- B. The BGP group int-64503 must include the import next-hop-self policy.
- C. The BGP group ext-64501 must include the import next-hop-self policy.
- D. The BGP group int-64503 must include the export next-hop-self policy.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 100

Your ISP is announcing a default route to both R1 and R2. You want your network routers to forward all Internet traffic through the R1 device.

Which BGP attribute would you use?

- A. local preference

- B. next-hop
- C. origin
- D. MED

Answer: A

Explanation:

The BGP attribute that you would use to forward all Internet traffic through the R1 device is the local preference.

The local preference is an attribute that is used within an autonomous system (AS) and exchanged between iBGP routers. It is used to select an exit point from the AS. The path with the highest local preference is preferred. By setting a higher local preference for the routes received from R1, you can make R1 the preferred exit point for all Internet traffic.

NEW QUESTION # 101

You are a network operator troubleshooting BGP connectivity.

Which two statements are correct about the output shown in the exhibit? (Choose two.)

- A. The R1 is configured for AS 65400.
- B. The routers are exchanging IPv4 routes.
- C. The BGP session is not established.
- D. Peer 10.32.1.2 is configured for AS 63645.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

The local AS is 65400, as indicated by "Local AS: 65400".

The output shows "NLRI for this session: inet-unicast", which indicates that the routers are exchanging IPv4 unicast routes.

NEW QUESTION # 102

Which statement is correct about IP-IP tunnels?

- A. IP-IP tunnels only support encapsulating non-IP traffic.
- B. IP-IP tunnels only support encapsulating IP traffic.
- C. There are 24 bytes of overhead with IP-IP encapsulation.
- D. The TTL in the inner packet is decremented during transit to the tunnel endpoint.

Answer: B

Explanation:

"The ENCAPSULATOR does not change the inner IP header, except to decrement the TTL and it remains unchanged during its deliver to the endpoint" - only router that encapsulates the inner packet decrements its TTL - during transit, the inner packet is unchanged.
