EXIN Certified Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Sample Questions (Q15-Q20):

NEW QUESTION # 15

Which one of the following is an Audible Signaling and Notification Device?

- A. Alarms
- B. Clocks
- C. Sirens
- D. Strobes

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to the CDCP® Preparation Guide, an audible signaling and notification device is a device that produces a sound to alert or notify the occupants of a data center of an event or condition. Sirens are examples of such devices, as they can emit loud and distinctive tones to warn of fire, emergency, or security incidents.

Strobes, on the other hand, are visual signaling and notification devices that produce flashes of light to attract attention or convey information. Alarms and clocks are not specific types of devices, but rather general terms that can refer to various audible or visual devices.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Which one of the following represents the three elements (oxygen, heat and fuel) to interact in order for the fire to exist?

- A. The Fire Class
- B. The Fire Hexagon
- C. The Fire Triangle
- D. The Fire Technology

Answer: C

Explanation:

The fire triangle is a simple model that illustrates the three elements a fire needs to ignite: heat, fuel, and an oxidizing agent (usually oxygen). A fire naturally occurs when the elements are present and combined in the right mixture. A fire can be prevented or extinguished by removing any one of the elements in the fire triangle.

NEW QUESTION # 17

What is the recommended level of Common Mode Noise (CMN)?

- A. Preferred to be < 1 Volt with a maximum of 3 Volt
- B. > 10 Volt measured at the rack level
- C. > 5 Volt measured at the rack level
- D. CMN has no effect on ICT equipment so any level is ok

Answer: A

Explanation:

As per Certified Data Centre Professional (CDCP) reference materials, Common Mode Noise (CMN) is a type of electrical noise that appears equally on the line and neutral wires with respect to ground, and it can negatively affect sensitive ICT equipment. Excessive CMN at the rack level can lead to data errors, communication problems, equipment malfunctions, or even hardware damage.

The CDCP training and the official exam preparation guide specify that the preferred level of Common Mode Noise at the rack should be less than 1 Volt, and under no circumstances should it exceed 3 Volts.

Keeping CMN at these levels helps ensure the stable and reliable operation of critical data center infrastructure. Higher CMN levels indicate grounding or bonding issues, or possibly interference from electrical or mechanical sources, and must be addressed promptly.

Options A and B (CMN above 5 or 10 Volts) are not acceptable and would present a serious risk to ICT equipment operation and data integrity. Option D is incorrect, as CMN absolutely does affect ICT equipment.

NEW QUESTION # 18

What is the most preferred unit of measure for cooling capacity?

- A. Horsepower
- B. Ton
- C. Watt
- D. BTU

Answer: C

Explanation:

Cooling capacity is the measure of a cooling system's ability to remove heat from a space. The most preferred unit of measure for cooling capacity is watt (W), which is the SI unit for power. Watt is defined as the amount of energy transferred or converted per unit time. One watt is equal to one joule of energy per second. Using watt as the unit of measure for cooling capacity allows for easy comparison and calculation of the cooling performance and efficiency of different cooling systems.

Other units of measure for cooling capacity are ton, BTU, and horsepower, but they are less common and less convenient than watt. Ton is a unit of measure that describes how much water at freezing temperature can be frozen in 24 hours, equivalent to 3.5 kW or 12,000 BTU/h. BTU (British Thermal Unit) is a unit of measure that describes the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water by one degree Fahrenheit, equivalent to 0.293 W. Horsepower is a unit of measure that describes the rate at which work is done, equivalent to 746 W.

NEW QUESTION # 19

Starting from which Rating does the requirement of Concurrently Maintainability becomes relevant?

- A. Rated-1
- B. Rated-3
- C. Rated-2
- D. Rated-4

Answer: B

Explanation:

The requirement of Concurrently Maintainability becomes relevant starting from Rated-3, according to the Uptime Institute Tier Classification System¹. Concurrently Maintainability means that any component or system in the data centre can be maintained or replaced without affecting the availability of the IT equipment.

This requires having redundant capacity components and multiple independent distribution paths serving the IT equipment. Rated-3 data centres are designed to achieve Concurrently Maintainability and have a minimum uptime of 99.982%. Rated-4 data centres also have Concurrently Maintainability, but they also have Fault Tolerance, which means that they can withstand any single unplanned event without affecting the availability of the IT equipment. Rated-4 data centres have a minimum uptime of 99.995%. Rated-1 and Rated-2 data centres do not have Concurrently Maintainability, as they have only one distribution path serving the IT equipment and no redundant capacity components. Rated-1 data centres have a minimum uptime of 99.671% and Rated-2 data centres have a minimum uptime of 99.741%.
