NEW QUESTION # 62

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) has recently implemented middleware for orchestration of services across platforms. The ERP system being used requires transactions be captured near real time at a REST endpoint initiated in Salesforce when creating an order object. Additionally, the Salesforce team has limited development resources and requires a low code solution.

Which two options will fulfill the use case requirements?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Implement Change Data Capture on the order object and leverage the replay Id in the middleware solution.
- B. Use a process builder to create a Platform Event, selecting the record type as the Platform Event Name on insert of record.
- C. Use Remote Process Invocation fire and forget pattern on insert on the order object using Flow Builder.
- D. Implement a Workflow Rule with Outbound Messaging to send SOAP messages to the designated endpoint.

Answer: A,C

NEW QUESTION # 63

Northern Trail Outfitters has a registration system that is used for workshops offered at its conferences.

Attendees use a Salesforce community to register for workshops, but the scheduling system manages workshop availability based on room capacity. It is expected that there will be a big surge of requests for workshop reservations when the conference schedule goes live.

Which integration pattern should be used to manage the influx in registrations?

- A. Remote Process Invocation-Request and Reply
- B. Remote Process Invocation-Fire and Forget
- C. RemoteCall-In
- D. Batch Data Synchronization

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

The Batch Data Synchronization pattern is suitable for this business use case because it allows transferring large volumes of data between Salesforce and the scheduling system in batches. This can handle the surge of requests for workshop registrations without overloading the systems or affecting the performance. The batch process can run at regular intervals or on demand to synchronize the data between the systems

1: Batch Data Synchronization Pattern

NEW QUESTION # 64

An enterprise customer that has more than 10 million customers have the following systems and conditions in their landscape:

- A. Enterprise Document Management System (DMS) Billsmailed to customers are maintained in the Document Management system
- B. Enterprise Billing System (EBS) - All customer's monthly billing is generated by this system.
- C. Salesforce CRM (CRM)- Customer information, Sales and Support information is maintained in CRM.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

The integration consultant should consider the following authorization and authentication needs while integrating the DMS and ESB with Salesforce:

Users should be authorized to view information specific to the customer they are servicing without a need to search for customer.

This means that the integration should provide a seamless and contextual access to the customer billing information and generated bills from the DMS and ESB, based on the customer record or case that the user is working on in Salesforce.

Consider Enterprise security needs for access to DMS and ESB. This means that the integration should comply with the security policies and standards of the Enterprise, such as encryption, auditing, logging, monitoring, etc.

Users should be authenticated into DMS and ESB without having to enter username and password. This means that the integration should use a single sign-on (SSO) mechanism that allows users to access multiple systems with one login credential, such as OAuth or SAML.

NEW QUESTION # 66

Northern Trail Outfitters requires an integration to be set up between one of their Salesforce orgs and an external data source us Salesforce Connect. The external data source supports Open Data Protocol.

Which three configurations should an Integration Architect recommend be implemented in order to secure requests coming from Salesforce?

Choose 3 answers

- A. Configure Special Compatibility for OData connection,
- B. Configure a Certificate for OData connection.
- C. Configure CSRF Protection for OData connection.
- D. Configure CSRF Protection on External Data Source.
- E. Configure Identity Type for OData connection.

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

Explanation

Configuring Identity Type, Certificate, and CSRF Protection for OData connection are three configurations that an Integration Architect should recommend to secure requests coming from Salesforce. Identity Type is used to specify the authentication method for the OData connection, such as Basic Authentication, OAuth 2.0, or Named Principal. Certificate is used to enable SSL/TLS encryption for the OData connection, which protects the data in transit from eavesdropping or tampering. CSRF Protection is used to prevent cross-site request forgery attacks, which exploit the trust between the user and Salesforce by sending malicious requests from another website. Configuring Special Compatibility for OData connection is not a configuration that is related to security, but rather to compatibility issues with different versions or implementations of OData.

Configuring CSRF Protection on External Data Source is not a configuration that can be done in Salesforce, but rather on the external data source itself. Reference: Salesforce Connect: Custom Adapters Developer Guide, page 9-10
