- A. Communication between SmartConsole applications and the Security Management Server
- B. Writing all information into the database
- C. It generates indexes of data written to the database
- D. Validating all data before it's written into the database

Answer: C

Explanation:

The responsibility of SOLR process on R81.20 management server is to generate indexes of data written to the database. SOLR is an open source search platform that provides fast and scalable indexing and querying capabilities. SOLR is used by the R81.20 management server to index data such as logs, objects, policies, tasks, and events, and to enable quick and efficient searches on this data by SmartConsole and SmartView applications.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 378

Why would an administrator see the message below?

- A. A new Policy Package created on the Gateway is going to be installed on the existing Management.
- B. A new Policy Package created on the Management is going to be installed to the existing Gateway.
- C. A new Policy Package created on both the Management and Gateway will be deleted and must be backed up first before proceeding.
- D. A new Policy Package created on the Gateway and transferred to the Management will be overwritten by the Policy Package currently on the Gateway but can be restored from a periodic backup on the Gateway.

Answer: B

Explanation:

A Policy Package is a set of rules and settings that define how a Security Gateway enforces security on traffic that passes through it. A Policy Package can be created on either the Management Server or the Security Gateway, but it must be installed on both to take effect. When a new Policy Package is created on the Management Server, it must be installed on an existing Security Gateway that has a different Policy Package installed. The message below warns the administrator that installing a new Policy Package will overwrite the existing one on the Security Gateway.

The message also advises the administrator to back up their existing configuration before proceeding with the installation.

NEW QUESTION # 379

With SecureXL enabled, accelerated packets will pass through the following:

- A. Network Interface Card and the Acceleration Device
- B. Network Interface Card, OSI Network Layer, OS IP Stack, and the Acceleration Device
- C. Network Interface Card, Check Point Firewall Kernel, and the Acceleration Device
- D. Network Interface Card, OSI Network Layer, and the Acceleration Device

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

With SecureXL enabled, accelerated packets will pass through the following: Network Interface Card and the Acceleration Device. SecureXL is a technology that accelerates network traffic processing by offloading intensive operations from the Firewall kernel to a dedicated SecureXL device. Accelerated packets are packets that match certain criteria and can be handled by SecureXL without involving the Firewall kernel. These packets bypass the OSI Network Layer, OS IP Stack, and Check Point Firewall Kernel, and are processed directly by the Network Interface Card and the Acceleration Device. The other options are either incorrect or describe non-accelerated packets.
