Adobe Experience Manager DevOps Engineer Expert Sample Questions (Q157-Q162):

NEW QUESTION # 157

Significant load occurs during peak traffic hours with intermittent 503 responses from AEM publish instances. The DevOps engineer identifies that there is an AEM core component (Image) that creates renditions generated on request from large source files that range over 10 MB.

What should the DevOps engineer do?

- A. Restart apache process on Dispatcher(s).
- B. Check if path is allowed in cache rules.
- C. Verify rewrite rules in site virtual host.
- D. Increase Dispatcher memory size.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Intermittent 503 Service Unavailable errors on publish instances during peak traffic, specifically tied to heavy image rendition generation, indicate that the Publish servers' CPUs are being overwhelmed by repetitive processing. In AEM, these dynamic renditions should only be generated once and then cached by the Dispatcher. If the load is hitting the publish tier constantly, it means the Dispatcher is not caching those rendition requests. The DevOps engineer must check the /rules section under /cache in the dispatcher farm configuration to ensure that the URL patterns for these image renditions are permitted to be cached.

NEW QUESTION # 158

A company requests a new program and environment in AEM as a Cloud Service. The company requires the program and environment to have some sample site for running demos, enablement, and proof of concept activities.

Which combination of program and environment types should the DevOps engineer create?

- A. Production program and development environment
- B. Sandbox program and development environment
- C. Sandbox program and staging environment
- D. Production program and production environment

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Adobe Cloud Manager, a Sandbox program is specifically designed for training, demos, enablement, and proof-of-concept (PoC) purposes. Unlike Production programs, Sandbox programs typically come pre-loaded with sample content (such as the AEM WKND reference site) and sample configurations to allow users to immediately start exploring the platform. Within a Sandbox program, you can create a Development environment to deploy code and test features. Production programs do not include sample content by default, as they are meant for live, secure, customer-facing applications.

NEW QUESTION # 159

Which setting must be configured in Cloud Manager to enable automatic scaling of AEM environments?

- A. Security Compliance Mode
- B. Auto-Scaling Policy
- C. Performance Monitoring
- D. Environment Replication

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 160

A developer informs a DevOps engineer that a page they are working on renders as expected in the AEM Authoring environment but appears blank when viewed through the dispatchers.

* No errors are present in the browser console.

* Other instances of this page template render properly.

* The page renders properly when accessing with the www URL but renders blank with the non-www URL.

What is causing this issue?

- A. There is an incorrect rule in the /filter section.
- B. The domain's IP is not listed in the /allowedclients section.
- C. The 'anonymous' user does not have read permissions on the path.
- D. A matching entry is missing in the /virtualhost section.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Dispatcher relies on the /virtualhost section of the farm configuration to route incoming HTTP requests based on the Host header. If a page renders correctly on www.domain.com but returns a blank or default response on domain.com, it strongly indicates that the bare domain (non-www) has not been added to the /virtualhost array for that specific site's farm configuration. The Dispatcher does not know how to handle the request for the missing host and drops or misroutes it.

NEW QUESTION # 161

Which best practice should be followed when modifying pom.xml to support Cloud Manager pipelines?

- A. Use hardcoded repository URLs for all dependencies
- B. Configure profiles for different environments using run modes
- C. Disable unit tests to speed up the build process
- D. Minimize dependencies to improve build speed

Answer: B
