AVIXA Certified Technology Specialist Sample Questions (Q51-Q56):

NEW QUESTION # 51

When gathering information, it is important to ask about the customer's goals because the

- A. customer may have unrealistic expectations of what can be done.
- B. customer may be planning on moving before the project is complete.
- C. integrator needs to confirm they understand the relationship between desires and budget
- D. integrator needs an understanding of what the customer expects to be able to do with the space.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Understanding the customer's goals is crucial because it helps the integrator design a solution that meets the customer's expectations and functional requirements. Knowing what the customer expects to achieve with the space allows the integrator to tailor the AV system to those needs, ensuring satisfaction and effective use of the system. This understanding also helps in aligning the project scope with the customer's vision and can prevent misunderstandings and misalignments later in the project.

NEW QUESTION # 52

This image shows the workings of which type of microphone?

- A. ribbon
- B. dynamic

Answer: B

Explanation:

The image shows a dynamic microphone, which works through electromagnetic induction. In a dynamic microphone, sound waves cause the diaphragm to move, which in turn moves a coil of wire within the magnetic field of a magnet. This movement generates an electrical signal that corresponds to the sound. The visible components, such as the diaphragm, coil, and magnet, are characteristic of a dynamic microphone's internal structure.

CTS Technology Specialist Reference

The CTS curriculum details the workings of various microphone types, explaining that dynamic microphones are durable and suitable for live sound due to their ability to handle high sound pressure levels.

NEW QUESTION # 53

Remotely monitoring system health of a deployed conference room and rebooting it when faulty is an example of

- A. a service contract.
- B. proactive maintenance.
- C. a service call.

- D. troubleshooting.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Proactive maintenance involves regularly monitoring and maintaining systems to prevent issues before they occur. Remotely monitoring system health and performing actions like rebooting faulty equipment are preventive measures that help maintain system reliability and functionality. This approach reduces the likelihood of system failures and downtime, ensuring that the conference room equipment operates smoothly.

NEW QUESTION # 54

Which of the following takes the highest precedence when the interpretations of applicable codes and standards are in conflict?

- A. national safety codes
- B. local authority that has jurisdiction
- C. local fire codes
- D. company guidelines

Answer: B

Explanation:

When conflicts arise between codes and standards, the local authority having jurisdiction (AHJ) takes precedence. The AHJ is responsible for enforcing regulations and has the final say in interpretations to ensure compliance with local requirements. CTS Technology Specialist Reference CTS guidelines state that the AHJ has ultimate authority over code interpretation and compliance, which is critical in AV installations to ensure safety and legal adherence.

NEW QUESTION # 55

During a site survey, a sound pressure level (SPL) meter can be used for measuring

- A. the room acoustics.
- B. distance to existing loudspeakers.
- C. the efficiency of the amplification.
- D. the ambient noise level.

Answer: D

Explanation:

An SPL (Sound Pressure Level) meter is commonly used during a site survey to measure the ambient noise level in a room. This measurement provides a baseline for audio system design, ensuring that the sound reinforcement system can deliver adequate volume levels above the background noise.

CTS Technology Specialist Reference

According to CTS materials, assessing ambient noise levels with an SPL meter is a standard step in designing sound systems, especially in environments where speech intelligibility is critical.
