The technician verifies the correct boot order in the BIOS. Which of the following steps should the technician take next?

- A. Replace the HDD.
- B. Reformat the HDD.
- C. Run HDD diagnostics.
- D. Reseat the RAM.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth Explanation:
If the system reports "Bootable device not found", and the BIOS is configured correctly, the next step is to run diagnostics on the hard drive to check for physical or logical failure. It could be a sign of a failing drive or corrupt boot sector.
* Option A: Reformatting the drive would erase data - not a diagnostic step.
* Option C: RAM does not affect whether a drive is bootable.
* Option D: Replacing the drive should only be done after diagnostics confirm failure.

NEW QUESTION # 132
A technician is troubleshooting stylus issues on identical, company-provided tablets. Users can purchase their own accessories. Some users have no issues, but others report that their styluses charge intermittently and die frequently. Which of the following is the most likely cause of this issue?

- A. Some of the tablets have manufacturing defects.
- B. The malfunctioning styluses need firmware updates.
- C. Certain cases are causing charging issues.
- D. The tablets need to be updated.

Answer: C

Explanation:
The most likely cause is third-party or ill-fitting cases obstructing the contact between the stylus and the tablet charging mechanism.
Some cases may not be designed with stylus charging in mind, particularly if users are purchasing their own accessories.
Option B: A software update might fix OS-related issues, but would not typically affect physical charging.
Option C: If some devices had defects, the issue would likely be consistent, not isolated to some users.
Option D: Firmware issues could be a factor but are less likely than physical obstructions when users are using different accessories.

NEW QUESTION # 135
A technician is troubleshooting internet connectivity issues after a firewall update. Users report that they can access local network resources, such as printers and shares, but cannot access the internet. Which of the following settings is most likely causing the issue?

- A. Subnet mask
- B. Default gateway
- C. Static IP assignments
- D. VLANs

Answer: B

Explanation:
If users canaccess local network resourcesbut not theinternet, the most likely culprit is amisconfigured or missing default gateway. The default gateway routes traffic from the local network to external networks (i.e., the internet). If it's not properly set or was altered during a firewall update, internet traffic won't be forwarded correctly.
Option A:Static IPs could cause conflict, but wouldn't affect only external access if configured correctly.
Option C:An incorrect subnet mask could isolate devices, but local communication would likely be impacted too.
Option D:VLANs segment networks; while misconfigured VLANs could cause access issues, they'd more likely isolate local traffic as well.

Objective 2.6: Given a scenario, configure and troubleshoot network connectivity.
